Case No: 18-F-0097 Civil Action 18-cy-241

February 28, 2019

Ms. Mary Alice Carter Executive Director Equity Forward 85 Broad Street New York, NY 10004

Dear Ms. Carter:

This is the eighth interim response of the Administration for Children and Families to your December 12, 2017, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request for correspondence from certain named Administration for Children and Families (ACF) employees which included certain specified terms, for the months of March, May, September and October 2017. Specifically, you sought the following items:

1. Correspondence to, from or carbon copied to 1:

Scott Lloyd

Jonathan White

Anna Marie Bena

Scott Logan

Tricia Swartz (Associate Deputy, ORR)

Jallyn Sualog (Director of Children Services)

James De La Cruz (Houston Field Supervisor)

- 2. The request asked that the search use the following search terms
 - "pregnancy"
 - "pregnant"
 - "ORR director"
 - "abortion"
 - "ru-486"

¹ The request also sought emails to, from and carbon copying Maggie Wynne and Dr. David Teuscher. However, ACF advised Equity Forward that these individuals work for at the department level and the Office of the Secretary Division of FOI/Privacy has jurisdiction over those records.

- "CPC"
- "ultrasound"
- "rape"
- "nonconsensual"
- "Gestational"
- "judicial bypass"
- "life affirming"
- "unborn child"
- "spiritual counseling"
- "options counseling"
- "WTF"
- "Terminating"

Your request was sent to the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) and the Office of the Chief Information Officer for a search for responsive records. The Office of the Chief Information Officer performed the search and provided 159,000 pages of responsive records.

Following extensive negotiations between the parties, it was agreed that ACF would begin its production by disclosing emails without attachments, after which Equity Forward would choose the attachments it wished to receive.

Accordingly, please find enclosed 714 pages of responsive records. Twenty-nine (29) additional pages were forwarded to the Office of the Secretary (OS), Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and to other federal agencies for consultation on those pages that originated within those offices.

Some of the information on the disclosed pages has been withheld under the FOIA exemptions (b)(5) and (b)(6). The exemption (b)(5) protects inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency. The exemption protects agency deliberations, both internal and with agency contractors and consultants, attorney-client privileged records and attorney work product. In this case, the withheld information includes pre-decisional discussions within the agency and between agency staff and contractors about management of the program and individual children, sensitive communications between agency staff seeking legal advice and counsel on policy and other matters and documentation of attorney thoughts and work in anticipation of litigation.

The FOIA exemption (b)(6) permits the withholding of records which, if released, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. In this case, the withheld information consists of the identities and/or other private information of private individuals and the work cell phones of federal employees. Public disclosure of this information would constitute an invasion of privacy of those individuals whose identifying information was disclosed. In withholding the information, the individual's privacy interest was balanced against any public interest in disclosure. In each instance where information was withheld, it was determined that the individual's privacy interests outweighed any public interest in disclosure of the withheld information. Disclosure of the withheld information would invade the privacy of the subject individuals but would reveal nothing about the operations or activities of the government.

Sincerely yours,

Celeste Smith Acting Director

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

- 1) The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons
- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons 1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide; 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;
 - I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy
- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- 4) The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother (b)(6) ears of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning!

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.

- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hi Jose-

Thanks for taking my call-

As I stated on the call, the attorney ad litem for the client (b)(6) has a court order for release of information (court # and Case #) from the client's file.

We have advised the attorney (b) (6) to contact Griselda Ocuna the local federal field specialist who is the local ORR representative and can guide the process and advise the program.

(b) (6) did say she has the court order in hand and wants to personally deliver in order to move forward.

The attorney's information:

Michael has finished speaking with the hospital. They are able to assess the status of the pregnancy via ultrasound. They are not set up to take any actions to complete the evacuation of contents if the ultrasound determines there is no fetal life, but Michael conveyed that ORR could arrange to transfer her elsewhere to take those steps if the abortion is already complete.

So the hospital can receive the UC for ultrasound and exam.

Good morning,

Thank you,

I wanted to provide an update regarding this minor.

The minor went to court with her clinician yesterday 1/26/2017.

The judge denied her petition to terminate pregnancy.

The judge believed the minor doesn't have sufficient information in regards to options or risks.

Case manager and Clinician will be working together to obtain parental consent from the minor's mother.

No outside funding should be used. I have edited the memo to reflect this. Please let the program know they should submit a TAR for the procedure. The donated funds should be declined.

Hi Michelle, is still working in on it. We were waiting to check on the court status as the attorney mentioned to that there may be a possibility that court may be cancel as the ad litem stated that she will go against the abortion and that can affect the agency to assist with payment for the procedure.

Since we haven't receive official notice of cancellation or re-schedule we will submit memo with what we have. (b)(6) will submit today shortly.
Thank you,

Hello (b)(6)
I am following up with this case for Niky. This is the minor that has a hearing tomorrow in regards to the abortion. We are running out of time, and we are still awaiting the mame to forward to headquarters. Can you please make sure that the memo to forward to headquarters. Can you please make sure that completes this first thing in the morning, so that it can be elevated? We were under the impression this would be completed today, but I called and was told that was out today.

Jose and Griselda,

We have been tasked by leadership to create a timeline for events surrounding the termination of pregnancy request.

Since DHUC was first notified about this case via the FFS team, we thought it would make most sense for you all to complete parts I have highlighted in Red that I was unable to complete, in addition to adding any other relevant documents/emails/correspondence. I have completed the relevant parts that DHUC can complete.

If you all would be interested in having a conference call later to discuss the content or format of the timeline, we would be happy to do so.

Thanks so much for your time and input.

Child Well-Being

Defining and measuring "flourishing"

Early investments in positive child development can reap lasting rewards. But for programs and policies to enable flourishing, we must be able to define, measure, and monitor it. This brief, from Child Trends and The Child and Adolescent Health Measurement Initiative at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, offers a model for defining and achieving flourishing, and identifies risk and protective factors.

Reproductive Health

Increasing the use of effective contraception

Nearly half of all U.S. pregnancies are unintended. This can have negative consequences for the health and well-being of women and children, and comes at significant public cost. Child Trends researchers were commissioned by the Planned Parenthood Action Fund to estimate, with the microsimulation model FamilyScape, nationwide pregnancy outcomes if all women not seeking pregnancy used the same mix of effective contraceptive methods as women at Planned Parenthood clinics who had participated in a recent evaluation study conducted by researchers from the University of California, San Francisco. Among the findings -- an estimated 64 percent decrease in unintended pregnancies and a 67 percent decrease in abortions nationwide.

Hi,

Please let me know if I should provide additional guidance to ORRNCC regarding the incident below. Is there anything else they should be doing?

SWB Referral: Sponsor (b)(6) reported UC (b)(6) year old female from was sexually assaulted at school. UC reported that five boys (students) cornered her and one sexually assaulted her. UC reported to school officials and reports were conducted after Sponsor contacted PD. School officials suspended the perpetrator but the other five remain in school and UC stated she continues to be harassed by them. UC does not feel safe at school. Safety plan: individual/family counseling, rape crisis center, low cost or free medical services, emergency 911, CPS, legal resources and ORRNCC to be contacted for future reference and advocacy. Reports filed: PD and CPS. Referred to PRS.

Ivonne and Wilfred,

The FFS and Medical Team have been tasked by leadership to create a timeline for events surrounding the termination of pregnancy request from last week. Since DHUC was first notified about this case via the FFS team, we thought it would make most sense for you all to complete parts I have highlighted in Red that I was unable to complete, in addition to adding any other relevant documents/emails/correspondence. I have completed the relevant parts that DHUC can complete. Perhaps (b)(6) the case manager at SWK Kokopelli could provide information to you as well. If you all would be interested in having a conference call later to discuss the content or format of the timeline, we would be happy to do so.

Thanks so much for your time and input.

Hi Dr. Meyerstein,

A bit over an hour ago. I sent Wilfred and Ivonne the timeline with a request to work on the judicial consent piece. My thought will be to merge mine, yours, and Wilfred's on to one time line when he responds.

If you agree then please let Wilfred and I know. (Wilfred, please know that the part I sent to you is due to the ORR Director in a little over an hour.)

Ivonne,
I wanted to update you all in regards to the above referenced procedure for appears to have been a miscommunication in regards to the program's decision to proceed with the procedure without the funding pre-approval from Headquarters. Dr. Meyerstein and I agree that it would be prudent to have a conference call with the program to discuss the process in this case and identify where in the process the miscommunication occurred in order to clarify the record and provide an opportunity to develop protocols for the next case which may require a TOP.

The Conference is tentatively scheduled for 1:00 PM EST tomorrow, 3/3/2017. If everyone noted above can please email me to advise if that time works best, once I receive all of your responses I will then create a calendar event and invite all interested parties and provide a conference number.

Thanks for your attention on this matter.

Unfortunately I don't see us with much time in our hands and maybe the work now would be towards supporting this youth into a disclose to brother. If she cannot have a termination here, her only chance would be to be released sooner than later to have brother and child advocate helping her outside of ORR. Easy said than done, I know. And I know, brother is probably having to move at this point and he is young... and support from this uncle seems a little off at this time.

We will discuss more of course. I will let you know if Will says anything different.

Good Afternoon,

I just spoke with the attorney (b)(6) She has filed for a new trial for (b)(6) ast Monday 2/6/2017. She stated that the judge has had it on his desk for a week, but still has not given a new court hearing yet. The judge officially has 60 days to accept for a new trial, however (b)(6) stated that the judge is aware of the urgency of the situation. The client only has up until the 16th week with Planned Parenthood(this week), and may even be reunified before the 60 days. The attorney will be speaking with the judge today to let them know that we need to have an answer by this Wednesday on whether the judge will set a new court date or not.

Meanwhile, the child advocate will be meeting with this Wednesday morning. The Home study is in process and is expected to be closed on 2/20/2017 with the report. The psychological evaluation will be finished tomorrow.

I have been looking into other clinics that can also do the procedure:

Acaia Women's Center – Surgical abortion up to 17 weeks in the facility.

Desert Star Familly Planning – Surgical abortion up to 23 weeks of pregnancy

Hello Team
From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays
She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge
Also, keep in mind she has only a grade education
I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay
I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Good afternoon,

Medical; Houppert (Ruhkamp), Gail (ACF) Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

Bartholomew, Michael (ACF); Kim, Curi (ACF); De LA Cruz, James (ACF); DCS

- 1) The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons
- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons 1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide; 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;
 - I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy
- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- 4) The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother, 20 years of age, resides in (b)(6) If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning!

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

OVERSIGHT

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

- 1) The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons
- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons 1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide; 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;
 - I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy
- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- 4) The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother (b)(6) years of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Medical; Houppert (Ruhkamp), Gail (ACF) Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons

- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons 1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide; 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;
 - I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy
- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- 4) The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother, wears of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning!

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Subject: Termination of	Pregnancy request

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

- 1) The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons
- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons 1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide; 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;
 - I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy
- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- 4) The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother, (b)(6)/ears of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning Shaanan,

The law confirms the gestational age in Arizona below:

Prohibiting Abortions Past 20 Weeks of Pregnancy (A.R.S. § 36-2159) – Prohibits abortions past 20 weeks gestation, except in the case of a medical emergency.†

The sponsor for this minor is in Florida, and the status of reunification is pending the medical condition of the client. All other documentation has been provided by the sponsor for reunification.

Good Morning!

Thank you

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.

- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother (b)(6) years of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning!

Thank you

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hello Team
From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays
She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge
Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education
I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay
I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

1) The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons

- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons -1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide;
- 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;

I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy

- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the

Ensuring Adequate Consent

before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.

and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.

•Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) — When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her.

including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.

- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.

•Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) – Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.

•Fiduciaries (Arizona C	Code of Jud. Admin. §	7-202) – Fiduciaries	may not consent to abortion for a ward v	without a court order.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request
Good afternoon,
We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons

The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons -1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide;

2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;

I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy

I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady

4)

The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,
The sponsor is the brother, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons

The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons -1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide;

2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;

I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy

I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady

4)

The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,
The sponsor is the brother, (b)(years of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor.
However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.
Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning!
As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.
However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.
As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics
- of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an
- abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.

- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- •Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons

The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons -1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide;

2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;

I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy

I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady

4)

The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Morning!

Thank you

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the

Ensuring Adequate Consent

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an
- abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.

- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.
- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- •Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Good Morning Shaanan,
The law confirms the gestational age in Arizona below:
Prohibiting Abortions Past 20 Weeks of Pregnancy (A.R.S. § 36-2159) – Prohibits abortions past 20 weeks gestation, except in the case of a medical emergency.†
The sponsor for this minor is in Florida, and the status of reunification is pending the medical condition of the client. All other documentation has been provided by the sponsor for reunification.
Thank you,

Good Morning!

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the

Ensuring Adequate Consent

•Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) – Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.

- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics
- of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.

- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.

- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hello Team

From my experience working with this UC, I am NOT feeling that she has developmental delays

She was nervous in court and felt intimidated, this may the reason for her lack or articulation with the judge

Also, keep in mind she has only a 3rd grade education

I am feeling that it is these two reasons that she is struggling to articulate, not a development delay

I am not a psychologist so I wouldn't object to psychological testing to make the determination

Medical; Houppert (Ruhkamp), Gail (ACF) Subject: Termination of Pregnancy request

Good afternoon,

We will be cancelling the conference call for this afternoon. After a conversation with Jim De La Cruz as to the best way forward with this case we have decided the following:

- 1) The judge called into question this minor's capacity for medical decision making and the field staff and shelter staff have noted that she is "delayed". As I have done in prior complex cases that involve a serious medical procedure, we are requesting that this minor undergo formal evaluation by a psychologist to assess her mental capacity in the next few days. If it is determined that she is significantly delayed and with cognitive impairment, that will raise the issue whether or not we can override her legal right to confidentiality in not disclosing to her parents and getting parental consent for termination about her pregnancy as it will put her life in danger for various reasons
- 2) The sponsor needs to have an expedited in depth home study for a number of reasons 1) the possibility that his younger sister has a developmental delay and she will require more support than he might be able to provide; 2) the possibility that he would have to care for her if we were to release her being pregnant if she agrees to disclose her pregnancy to him; 3) to ensure the minor's safety with the brother;
 - I have cc'd Gail Houppert who directs the Home studies and PRS to ensure that this home study is expedited given the time sensitivity with this young lady advancing in her pregnancy
- 3) I am requesting that the FFS identify a possible OB practice in the sponsor's community in advance in the event that we come to the conclusion that we will discharge this young lady
- 4) The shelter staff and case management staff should continue to work with the minor to help understand her situation and the importance of disclosing her medical condition to her parents or brother.

I would like to raise one additional curveball, that if she is discharged to her brother and was willing to disclose her pregnancy to her brother but not her parents, that in some states (I don't know the laws in Florida) that still would not suffice for consent.

I think it is important that we set a firm deadline for ourselves to have these tasks accomplished given the fact that she is 13 weeks pregnant and state laws limit procedures passed a certain gestational age. Please respond with updates to the FFS Wilfred Calero on all of these matters by 2/10. The Medical Team will be happy to consult once we have a more complete picture of the situation.

Thank you for your time and help on this case.

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother, book vears of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Good Morning (b)(6)

I have forwarded the email trend from Shaanan Meyerstein from yesterday. I apologize for the not advising for the home study. However, I have staffed the case with my leads, APD, and FFS before sending the referral.

I hope to be able to give you a call after 1pm today, however I may be attending court with this client all afternoon. I will call you with the CL asap when I have a chance after 1 pm.

Again, I apologize that you were not included in the staffing and were not aware of the HS request before now.

Thank you,

I think what she wants is notice so that everyone is on same page and so that if CC is opposed we dont go throught the back and forth of program submitting CC putting in a recommendation that is opposed and then me getting involved and reversing it.

What she wants is communication we all agree then we all move forward without the mess. The real problem is that Lupita communication seems like program needs her permission which is not the case. Message is correct but her delivery is poor. Ill talk to her.

I have to ask, because as far as I know, the case coordinators do not need to be doing this, the program can submit their own independent recommendation regardless of what the CC believes. So not sure why she's asking for the CM to staff this case with her when obviously the program has made their recommendation.?

Good Afternoon Shaanan,

The sponsor is the brother, (b)(6) years of age, resides in Florida. If the minor was indeed medically stable for discharge, we could of course discharge the minor to the sponsor. However, the sponsor would still be unaware of the client being pregnant from being sexually assaulted, and wanting an abortion. Therefore, the sponsor would not be prepared for the release of the minor, and possible withdrawal from being a sponsor. Further assessment is still needed at this time to ensure a safe release of the minor. Please let me know if you have any questions. Good Morning!

As previously staffed with our leadership, it was determined that the notarized letter from the parents would not be sufficient for the termination to take place. The client may be open to speaking with her mother if we were able to obtain permission to proceed with the notarized letter of consent from the mother in home country.

However, as I am under the assumption that we would only be able to proceed with the termination once we appealed to the court to obtain the judicial bypass because the mother would not be able to attend the abortion procedure.

As the clinician has stated below, that the client does not feel comfortable informing her family, and would like to appeal. Please let me know if there are any questions.

Subject: Arizona Laws regarding abortion

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the

Ensuring Adequate Consent

before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.

and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.

•Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) — When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that is available to her.

including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.

•Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) — Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.

•Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) — Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.

•Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) – Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.

Wilfred,

Apparently what has happened in the past with the other SWK program in Arizona where an FFS signed for consent was not the right process. In the State of Arizona, a judicial bypass needs to be attained for this minor to have a termination without the consent of her parents. You should have a local legal aid group who can help facilitate this process.

Good afternoon,
This email is to update you regarding minor:

$A^{#(b)(6)}$

Minor went to Planned Parenthood today for an informational session.

Minor received an ultrasound to confirm pregnancy.

Minor's gestational age is 13 weeks and 3 days.

Being that the gestational age exceeds 9 weeks, minor will have to receive a surgical abortion.

I also spoke with James Washington, Vice President of Patient Services from Planned Parenthood.

2.

ORR Medical and Placement Authorization Forms

3.

Required Parental Consent

This form will need to be completed and notarized

Mr. Washington explained to me that per Arizona law, UC must wait at least 24 hours after the informational session before proceeding.

At this time, UC has still expressed desire to continue with the termination to her case manager.

Appointment has been set for 1/27/2017 at 7:30 AM.

I have also attached the forms provided during the visit.

Thank you,

Good afternoon,
CM (b)(6) attended an informational session at Planned Parenthood today with minor (b)(6) A#(b)(6) regarding termination of pregnancy.
During this visit, it was noted that the current gestational age is 13 weeks and 3 days.

Being that the gestational age exceeds 9 weeks, minor will have to receive a surgical abortion.

The cost for the termination will be $725.

The program will cover these costs on the day of the procedure.

There also may be an additional fee of $95 if the client had an RH- blood type.

At this time, ORR Medical is going by the last statement provided by the client, that the pregnancy was a result of rape.

With that being said, the procedure would be eligible for federal funding.

Dr. Meyerstein with ORR Medical called me earlier today.

He informed me that he was working on a memo that would be signed by the ORR director.

This memo would be signed and sent back stating that federal funding.

I have been in contact with the LMCs from other facilities that were more familiar with this process.

I was informed that the FFS was the one who signed the parental consent (as legal guardian).

Once the parental consent is signed, it needs to be notarized.

FFS would then have to be present at Planned Parenthood the day of the procedure.
The surgical termination does not require any follow up visits.
An informational form was provided stating the risks of the procedure.
Detailed instructions were also provided for the day of the procedure.
I spoke with James Washington, Vice President with Patient Services.
He informed me that the following items will need to be provided the day of the procedure:
1. SWK Demographic sheet
2. ORR placement and medical authorization forms
3. Required parental consent
a. Signed and notarized
4. Payment
Per my conversation with $^{(b)(6)}$ the minor still expressed desire to terminate the pregnancy.
At the time of visit, an appointment was set for the procedure.
Appointment is set for Friday 1/27/2017 at 7:30 AM.
If you have any additional questions, don't hesitate to contact me.

Good afternoon,

	b)(6)	attended ar	informational session at Planned Parenthood today with minor	(b)(6)
(b)(6)	A#	(b)(6)	regarding termination of pregnancy.

During this visit, it was noted that the current gestational age is 13 weeks and 3 days.

Being that the gestational age exceeds 9 weeks, minor will have to receive a surgical abortion.

The cost for the termination will be $725.

The program will cover these costs on the day of the procedure.

There also may be an additional fee of $95 if the client had an RH- blood type.

At this time, ORR Medical is going by the last statement provided by the client, that the pregnancy was a result of rape.

With that being said, the procedure would be eligible for federal funding.

Dr. Meyerstein with ORR Medical called me earlier today.

He informed me that he was working on a memo that would be signed by the ORR director.

This memo would be signed and sent back stating that federal funding.

I have been in contact with the LMCs from other facilities that were more familiar with this process.

I was informed that the FFS was the one who signed the parental consent (as legal guardian).

Once the parental consent is signed, it needs to be notarized.

FFS would then have to be present at Planned Parenthood the day of the procedure.

The surgical termination does not require any follow up visits.

An informational form was provided stating the risks of the procedure.

Detailed instructions were also provided for the day of the procedure.

I spoke with James Washington, Vice President with Patient Services.

He informed me that the following items will need to be provided the day of the procedure:

1. SWK Demographic sheet

2. ORR placement and medical authorization forms

Required parental consent

a.Signed and notarized

4. Payment

Per my conversation with (b)(6) the minor still expressed desire to terminate the pregnancy.

At the time of visit, an appointment was set for the procedure.

Subject: UC seeking TOP, SWK Kokopelli
Good afternoon,
This email is to update you regarding minor:
b)(6)
A #(b)(6)
Minor went to Planned Parenthood today for an informational session.

Being that the gestational age exceeds 9 weeks, minor will have to receive a surgical abortion.

Minor received an ultrasound to confirm pregnancy.

I also spoke with James Washington, Vice President of Patient Services from Planned Parenthood.
The following documents will be needed at the time of the procedure:
1. Demographic sheet
2. ORR Medical and Placement Authorization Forms
3. Required Parental Consent
a. This form will need to be completed and notarized
Mr. Washington explained to me that per Arizona law, UC must wait at least 24 hours after the informational session before proceeding.
At this time, UC has still expressed desire to continue with the termination to her case manager.
Appointment has been set for 1/27/2017 at 7:30 AM.
I have also attached the forms provided during the visit.
Thank you,
(b)(6)

Hi Will,

The client (b)(6) was sexually assaulted in COO. Please see attached SIR for more information and the client is now requesting an abortion. The following is the plan provided by two different clinics, and the Arizona laws for abortion. CM and CL are requesting authorization to have the procedure of abortion for this client.

Clinic Planned Parenthood:

An initial appointment would be made for the above client. She would receive an ultra sound to confirm the exact age of the fetus, and a counseling session to advise the client on additional options regarding abortion, adoption, foster care, etc. The abortion can happen up until the 16th week of the pregnancy at this clinic, however, the older the fetus the more expensive the procedure will cost. The initial appointment will cost $80. The client will be seen within 24 hours for the actual abortion. As the cost ranges based on how far along the fetus is at the time of the abortion, CM was unable to determine the actual cost. However, the client can apply for additional funds to have this cost reduced. After disclosing for the second appointment that her parents would be unable to attend, that we as legal guardians could attend with client, they stated that we would need to provide documentation of proof that we are legal guardians.

Clinic Desert Star Family Planning:

An initial appointment would include the ultrasound, counseling session and cost $50. The second visit would cost $510.00 and would be within 24 hours that the procedure would take place. This clinic stated that the client could take two pills if she was not already 11 weeks. They can proceed up until 23 weeks and the cost would remain the same of a total of $560.00. The clinic works with NNAF for additional funds for low to no income patients, however NNAF have an automated message (1/6/2017) stating that they are out of funds until February 1st.

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.

- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics
- of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an
- abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that
- is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.

- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- •Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud. Admin. § 7-202) Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Hi Will,

The client (b)(6) was sexually assaulted in COO. Please see attached SIR for more information and the client is now requesting an abortion. The following is the plan provided by two different clinics, and the Arizona laws for abortion. CM and CL are requesting authorization to have the procedure of abortion for this client.

Clinic Planned Parenthood:

An initial appointment would be made for the above client. She would receive an ultra sound to confirm the exact age of the fetus, and a counseling session to advise the client on additional options regarding abortion, adoption, foster care, etc. The abortion can happen up until the 16th week of the pregnancy at this clinic, however, the older the fetus the more expensive the procedure will cost. The initial appointment will cost $80. The client will be seen within 24 hours for the actual abortion. As the cost ranges based on how far along the fetus is at the time of the abortion, CM was unable to determine the actual cost. However, the client can apply for additional funds to have this cost reduced. After disclosing for the second appointment that her parents would be unable to attend, that we as legal guardians could attend with client, they stated that we would need to provide documentation of proof that we are legal guardians.

Clinic Desert Star Family Planning:

An initial appointment would include the ultrasound, counseling session and cost $50. The second visit would cost $510.00 and would be within 24 hours that the procedure would take place. This clinic stated that the client could take two pills if she was not already 11 weeks. They can proceed up until 23 weeks and the cost would remain the same of a total of $560.00. The clinic works with NNAF for additional funds for low to no income patients, however NNAF have an automated message (1/6/2017) stating that they are out of funds until February 1st.

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical
- risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics
- of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an
- abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about fetal development, the risks of abortion, and information about alternatives to abortion.
- •Informed Consent for Lethal Condition (A.R.S. § 36-2158) When a woman discovers that her child may have a life-threatening birth defect or other fetal condition, information must be provided 24 hours in advance about the support that
- is available to her, including perinatal hospice. Requires the Department of Health Services to create and maintain a website providing unbiased information about perinatal hospice and assistance available for children with special needs.
- •Opportunity to View Ultrasound (A.R.S. § 36-2156) Requires an ultrasound to be performed at least 24 hours before every abortion, and a woman seeking abortion must be offered the opportunity to view the ultrasound and hear the baby's heartbeat, if audible.
- •Coercion Prohibited (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Prohibits a person from intimidating or coercing another person into having an abortion and allows minors to obtain public assistance benefits if parents cut off financial support because the
- minor refuses to have an abortion. Requires that all abortion clinics conspicuously post signs that state it is unlawful for any person to intimidate or coerce another person into having an abortion.

- Foster Parents (A.R.S. § 8-514.05) Foster parents may not consent to abortion for a foster child.
- Fiduciaries (Arizona Code of Jud.

Admin. § 7-202) – Fiduciaries may not consent to abortion for a ward without a court order.

Ivonne,

This is the case I spoke to you about last week. Program is working with ORR HQ to coordinate a plan and provide the UC with requested medical termination of her pregnancy.

Was not sure if you wanted me to send to Jim directly or if you wanted to review and staff prior to the send up. The appointment for the procedure has not been scheduled as of yet.

Ensuring Adequate Consent

•Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) — Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.

- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an inperson consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an abortion provider who fails to obtain informed consent. Hi Will,

The client (b)(6) was sexually assaulted in COO. Please see attached SIR for more information and the client is now requesting an abortion. The following is the plan provided by two different clinics, and the Arizona laws for abortion. CM and CL are requesting authorization to have the procedure of abortion for this client.

Clinic Planned Parenthood:

An initial appointment would be made for the above client. She would receive an ultra sound to confirm the exact age of the fetus, and a counseling session to advise the client on additional options regarding abortion, adoption, foster care, etc. The abortion can happen up until the 16th week of the pregnancy at this clinic, however, the older the fetus the more expensive the procedure will cost. The initial appointment will cost $80. The client will be seen within 24 hours for the actual abortion. As the cost ranges based on how far along the fetus is at the time of the abortion, CM was unable to determine the actual cost. However, the client can apply for additional funds to have this cost reduced. After disclosing for the second appointment that her parents would be unable to attend, that we as legal guardians could attend with client, they stated that we would need to provide documentation of proof that we are legal guardians.

Clinic Desert Star Family Planning:

An initial appointment would include the ultrasound, counseling session and cost $50. The second visit would cost $510.00 and would be within 24 hours that the procedure would take place. This clinic stated that the client could take two pills if she was not already 11 weeks. They can proceed up until 23 weeks and the cost would remain the same of a total of $560.00. The clinic works with NNAF for additional funds for low to no income patients, however NNAF have an automated message (1/6/2017) stating that they are out of funds until February 1st.

AZ Laws regarding Abortion:

Arizona law requires that women under 18 years old seeking an abortion must either have the notarized written permission of one of their parents/legal guardian or permission from a Superior Court Judge.

- •Parental Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2152) Requires parental consent for minors seeking abortions but allows for judicial bypass. Requires the parental consent to be obtained on a form to ensure that parents are informed of all of the medical
- risks of abortion before giving consent. Requires parental consent to be notarized. Allows parents to sue (1) an abortion provider who performs an abortion on their minor daughter without parental consent or (2) any person who assists a minor in obtaining an abortion without parental consent.
- •Informed Consent (A.R.S. § 36-2153) Information must be provided 24 hours in advance to a woman seeking an abortion about the risks and alternatives of the procedure, the probable gestational age and physiological characteristics
- of the preborn child, and the services available from public and private agencies to assist during pregnancy and after birth. Requires that the information is provided at an in-person consultation with a doctor. Allows a woman to file a lawsuit against an

Dr. Callanan just informed me that as per the ultrasound results, the fetus has a heart beat and is 9 weeks and 1 day.

The medication did not cause spontaneous abortion. The risk is pretty small and there are no signs of miscarriage (b)(6) may be cramping and vital signs are fine. We are waiting for doctor's documents for release.

What would you like for me to do next?

Thank you!

Michael has finished speaking with the hospital. They are able to assess the status of the pregnancy via ultrasound. They are not set up to take any actions to complete the evacuation of contents if the ultrasound determines there is no fetal life, but Michael conveyed that ORR could arrange to transfer her elsewhere to take those steps if the abortion is already complete.

So the hospital can receive the UC for ultrasound and exam.

Hello FFS Supervisors,

As you are aware ORR is reviewing case process for pregnant UC. This includes when a UC is found to be pregnant and what to do

BEFORE the care provider proceeds to explore with the UC what her options are. After sending you this message I will send the FFS team guidance that they must share with their assigned care provider case managers, clinicians, and medical staff. That guidance is:

If the care provider discovers that they have a pregnant UC in their facility they should immediately submit an SIR as they normally would.

The care provider should contact the FFS directly with any questions or requests in writing. Requests should include clarification and instruction, in advance, about how to proceed with offering the girl guidance for her birth options or medical procedures.

The FFS will need to follow up with you, their supervisor, and medical staff (to be identified by Dr. Bartholomew) before the care provider takes next steps in the girl's case. Until instructions are provided to the shelters they should not proceed with next steps in the case unless the girl has an emergency medical concern which of course will require the care provider to immediately notify their FFS or on call ORR staff.

Thank you for your assistance in this issue and please know that Senior Management will send out updated guidance as policy and procedures are developed.

Hello FFS,

This email contains an attachment that you should open, read, and forward to your assigned Care Provider Case Managers, Clinicians, and Medical Staff. In addition to the attachment please find below instructions for you to follow as Care Provider staff alert you of any cases of pregnant UC. (Sarah please work with the POs to ensure that Care Provider Administrators are also provided with the attached guidance.)

As you are aware ORR is reviewing case process for pregnant UC. This includes when a UC is found to be pregnant and what to do BEFORE the care provider proceeds to explore with the UC what her options are. That guidance is:

- If the care provider discovers that they have a pregnant UC in their facility they should immediately submit an SIR as they normally would. (You the FFS and the ORR Medical Team should be copied.)
- The care provider should contact you the FFS directly with any questions or requests in writing.
 Requests should include clarification and instruction, in advance, about how to proceed with offering the girl guidance for her birth options or medical procedures.
- It is important to know that ORR's Acting Director, Ken Tota, should be informed of the case by your FFS Supervisor as soon as cases are identified and as care providers request guidance.
- You the FFS will need to follow up with your supervisor, and medical staff (to be identified by Dr. Bartholomew) before the care provider takes next steps in the girl's case. Until instructions are provided to the shelters they should not proceed with next steps in the case.
- If the UC has an emergency medical concern then the care provider should immediately seek emergency medical care and immediately notify you, their FFS, FFS Supervisor, or on call ORR staff during non-business hours.

Thank you for your assistance in this issue and please know that Senior Management will send out updated guidance as policy and procedures are developed. If you have any questions please contact your FFS Supervisor.

This includes when a UC is found to be pregnant and what to do BEFORE you as a care provider proceed to explore with the UC what her options are. If you have a pregnant UC in your care or you discover that a UC is pregnant it is important that you proceed with the following steps:

- Immediately submit an SIR, and copy your assigned FFS and ORR Medical Care Coordinator in advance of taking additional action.
- For each case you should send to your assigned FFS questions about how to proceed and include all questions and concerns expressed by the UC. (Copy the supervisor for your assigned FFS.)
- Before taking additional steps you should wait for WRITTEN instructions from your FFS or FFS Supervisor.
- If the UC is experiencing an emergency medical event that requires immediate emergency medical services you should proceed to seek emergency medical care and immediately contact your assigned FFS or on-call ORR staff.

Thank you for your patience in assisting ORR by following the interim or temporary guidance in this email. ORR Senior Management, the ORR Medical Team, and ORR Policy Team are all working hard to develop guidance for pregnant UC. In the near future you will receive updated long term guidance.

Dr. Callanan just informed me that as per the ultrasound results, the fetus has a heart beat and is 9 weeks and 1 day.
The medication did not cause spontaneous abortion. The risk is pretty small and there are no signs of miscarriage (b)(6) may be cramping and vital signs are fine. We are waiting for doctor's documents for release.
What would you like for me to do next?

Just one clarification: when Dr. Callanan stated that the minor will be safe if it is less than 12 weeks, could you clarify? Safe as in "the medication regimen for the medical abortion procedure will be safe for her up until the twelfth week of gestation"? Just want to make sure I understood your email.

Dr. Callanan just informed me that as per the ultrasound results, the fetus has a heart beat and is 9 weeks and 1 day.

The medication did not cause spontaneous abortion. The risk is pretty small and there are no signs of miscarriage. (b)(6) may be cramping and vital signs are fine. We are waiting for doctor's documents for release.

Hi Jose-

Thanks for taking my call-

As I stated on the call, the attorney ad litem for the client (b)(6) has a court order for release of information (court # and Case #) from the client's file.

We have advised the attorney (b)(6) to contact Griselda Ocuna the local federal field specialist who is the local ORR representative and can guide the process and advise the program.

(b)(6) did say she has the court order in hand and wants to personally deliver in order to move forward.

They are not set up to take any actions to complete the evacuation of contents if the ultrasound determines there is no fetal life, but Michael conveyed that ORR could arrange to transfer her elsewhere to take those steps if the abortion is already complete.

So the hospital can receive the UC for ultrasound and exam.

Hi Griselda. I suggest answering this after the girl arrives and the hospital presents specific documents to sign. They might not need anything other than the letter from HQ.

Subject: RE: urgent. termination of pregnancy

Hello,

The program is not asking for federal funding. SWKEY informed me that they are working with Jane's Due Process, nonprofit organization. The organization's goal is to ensure legal representation for pregnant minors in Texas and with the Attorney General's Office cover the cost of the procedure.

As per the Lead Clinician, there appears to be some inconsistencies in UC's narrative about having her last menstrual cycle in December before she left HC early January. Minor reported the sexual assault by the guide occurred early February (a few days prior to entering the US border). Based on conflicting information it may be the case minor was pregnant before she departed from HC. At this time minor confirmed she does not wish for her family or sponsor to know about her pregnancy or sexual abuse.

Please let me know if you have any further questions,

Thank you,

Subject: RE: urgent. termination of pregnancy

Jose and Griselda,

Please clarify -

From all of the documentation, it appears that you are not seeking Federally Funding for this Termination of pregnancy request as you have secured private funding and this is more of an FYI? I have also dissected the background history and the SIR text and want to be very clear about the circumstances of this pregnancy. If you are not seeking Federal Funding then it Is not as relevant, but to be clear: the minor has been dated by her OG-GYN and Ultrasound at almost 9 weeks Gestational age. She alleges that the rape possibly happened the last week of January and the first week of February, which would be inconsistent with the GA Dating. Her last reported date of consensual sex with her boyfriend in COO was 1/5 which would make sense vis a vis dating of pregnancy.

Am I correct in my understanding of this situation? I have highlighted relevant parts of text in red.

Under Background:

Background

UC found out that urine pregnancy test was positive during initial medical appointment at previous care provider's shelter on \(\frac{\text{Di}}{2}\) 2017. She voiced that the pregnancy was an outcome of sexual abuse. Minor states that during her journey she was sexually assaulted by a male who she did not know but was a part of the group she was travelling with during her journey to the United States. Minor states that this male touched her body and her genital area. Minor states that he also forced her to have vaginal sex with him and she is unsure if he used protection. Minor does not remember seeing bodily fluids. Minor disclosed that the man who raped her was unarmed but threatened to have the guide sent her back to \(\frac{\text{Di}}{\text{O}}\) if she did not comply. Minor stated she was fearful he would hurt her and believed his threat. Minor stated that no one else in the group was aware of her sexual assault. At this time, the minor is pregnant and seeking termination. Minor denies having any past or current nightmares, trouble sleeping, or concentrating after the event. Minor does not want to disclose her sexual abuse, pregnancy, or termination with her parents or sponsors.

Assigned clinician submitted a SIR and TDFPS report (SIR and TDFPS report filed on 2/23/17 at 1:50PM, E-Confirmation Number (b)(6) after youth stated that she was sexually assaulted in home country by an unknown male. The youth verbalized her desire to terminate the pregnancy

The SIR States:

Please describe how the pregnancy occurred and if there are any medical complications related to the pregnancy:

Minor has disclosed that she was having consensual sex with her boyfriend in home country and would use protection in the form of condoms but she sometimes did not use protection. Minor was also raped during her journey and the minor is unsure if the male was wearing protection. At this time, medical is setting an appointment with OB/GYN to confirm how far along she is in her pregnancy. SIR

ADDENDUM REPORTED BY CLINICIAN (b)(6) LMSW on 02/24/2017: Minor disclosed having consensual sex with her boyfriend in home country before travelling to the United States on 01/05/2017. Minor disclosed she had a six month relationship with her boyfriend in which they engaged in protected and unprotected sex. Minor also disclosed that during her trip to the United States she was raped by one of the males of her group while in (b)(6) Mexico and she does not know if he was using protection.

Minor is not sure of the exact date that she was sexually assaulted but believes it was soon before crossing the border into the United States. Approximately between the last week of January or the first week of February.

Other Contact or Threats to UC while in ORR Care (from smuggling syndicates, organized crime, other criminal actors

Also, Jose in your Memo, just wanted to make you aware that under the issue section it is a bit confusing: In the State of Texas consent is required from a legal guardian unless one gets a judicial bypass

1)Under first paragraph - Issue

An unaccompanied child (UC) in ORR Custody has requested to terminate her pregnancy. Consent by a parent or legal guardian is not required under Texas law for a minor to terminate her pregnancy. Southwest Key Casa Blanca is currently working with Jane's Due Process to coordinate medical and legal proceedings in accordance to state law. Jane's Due Process has allocated and secured private funds to cover cost of termination proceedings.

*Consent is required under Texas Law for TOP which is the whole reason to pursue a judicial bypass

Hello all. I wanted to get guidance on my situation below.

I have not had this situation below but is time sensitive. Program is process of documenting serious medical procedure but want to lean forward for you medical and child welfare guidance.

The SWK casa Blanca program wrote:

Hi all,

At this time fetus is 8 weeks 4 days gestional age. Minor was explained by the OBGYN that a surgical procedure is recommended but also offered (b)(6) he option to have the pill by no later than next Friday 3/4/17 was explained the process for both procedures and elected on the pill procedure.

OBGYN warned against the pill in part due to that minor will spontaneously miscarry while at the shelter. OBGYN explained to (b)(6) and clinician that minor will suddenly experience cramping and pain along with heavy bleeding as she miscarries. (b)(6) affirmed she wants to move forward with the pill procedure.

Due to the limited time we have and Texas Law allowing 5 days for judicial bypass hearings, we will be taking her to request hearing today. She will be assigned a free attorney at the courthouse who speaks Spanish. We should have obtained the hearing no later than this next Thursday to have the procedure scheduled for Friday.

Physician will be issuing a prescription for medical to fill and super absorbency maxi pads for minor as she goes through procedure.

Griselda/Medical, due to the time restraint we have please advise how you recommend we address/manage minor having the pill procedure and having the effects of it here at the shelter. Based on the information provided, minor will have a miscarriage here while at the shelter and as mentioned will spontaneously experience heavy cramping, pain and heavy menstrual bleeding.

Hi Jose,
As indicated in the email below, the minor (b)(6) is requesting to terminate her pregnancy. OBGYN explained the surgical procedure and pill procedure and the minor wants to take the pill procedure.
Can you please provide guidance regarding this case?

Thank you Griselda.

Update on (b)(6) 2.24.17: Janes Due Process facilitated setting up an initial appointment at OBGYN for sonogram and counseling portion at the clinic that will likely conduct the procedure. Janes Due Process submitted a voucher to cover the cost for appointment and the entire procedure will likely be covered by the clinic and private donors.

At this time, it appears she may be further along than we initially had on received documentation. Update to follow on SIR/SIR Addendum once minor and clinician return to Casa Blanca.

Minor appears to be anxious and nervous at the OBGYN per clinician's observation.

Depending on how far along she is, it is likely Jane's Due Process will assist us with obtaining a judicial bypass as early as Tuesday.

We will await to receive guidance on any approvals that need to occur from ORR once judicial bypass is obtained.

Do we need any signed documentation or approval from ORR Director, FFS, or other stakeholder considering Texas has the judicial bypass process in place for minors requesting termination procedure?

Just one clarification: when Dr. Callanan stated that the minor will be safe if it is less than 12 weeks, could you clarify? Safe as in "the medication regimen for the medical abortion procedure will be safe for her up until the twelfth week of gestation"? Just want to make sure I understood your

Dr. Callanan stated that the minor will be safe if it is less than 12 weeks.

I also spoke with the minor and she wants to continue with terminating her pregnancy.

Please advise.

Dr. Callanan just informed me that as per the ultrasound results, the fetus has a heart beat and is 9 weeks and 1 day.
The medication did not cause spontaneous abortion. The risk is pretty small and there are no signs of miscarriage. (b)(6) may be cramping and vital signs are fine. We are waiting for doctor's documents for release.
What would you like for me to do next?
Thank you!

Michael has finished speaking with the hospital. They are able to assess the status of the pregnancy via ultrasound. They are not set up to take any actions to complete the evacuation of contents if the ultrasound determines there is no fetal life, but Michael conveyed that ORR could arrange to transfer her elsewhere to take those steps if the abortion is already complete.

So the hospital can receive the UC for ultrasound and exam.

Subject: Further Medical Guidance

SWK Casa Blanca,

Good morning,

Thank you for the update regarding the minor this morning.

SWK health team should use the after-hours emergency line to connect with the Clinic, if they have not done so already. The minor's OB-GYN at the reproductive health clinic should be made aware if they are not already aware that the Cytotec was administered at the date/time the patient self-administered it Sunday 3/5 rather than Saturday @ 1500, since that may affect her care.

At this point, the medical case has become a routine post-chemical termination of pregnancy, and the recommendation by the reproductive health clinic was to follow up 3/17 barring any new unforeseen changes, complications which they listed explicitly in the discharge instructions. If instructed to go to the ER by the reproductive health clinic, than do so. At this point, the Primary Physician/Pediatrician Dr who recently saw this young lady in his office prior to the termination should be the on-site conductor driving any further work-up or evaluation. If he feels that the minor needs a medical evaluation non-emergently then he should see her in his office. If he feels that she needs an OB-GYN evaluation then I think an office setting would be more suitable by the provider who cares for the pregnant teens carrying their pregnancy to term.

In general, the DHUC will not be managing the direct provision of healthcare of this minor; that will be left to local medical authorities at this point.

The minor's safety and health must remain the paramount concern. Please do keep us informed.

Thank you.

At 0732 this morning I called Women's Reproductive Services and scheduled a follow-up as instructed by Dr. Braid and minor will be seen at the soonest available date which is Friday, March 17, 2017 at 3:30 pm.

Nurse instructed me a full medical record can be requested on the date of appointment and can be available as soon as the Saturday after (18th). Nurse stated medications administered and discharge instructions/notes for Friday's visit (3/3/17) can be requested for a fee of $25 and we would need to have the minor present to sign off request. Minor will be transported to clinic tomorrow morning and we will request notes to be uploaded on UAC Portal right after.

I am requesting permission to transport minor to the local ER at North Central Baptist to have a sonogram performed and be evaluated by MD this morning. Please reply at your earliest convenience.

Hi guys,

Here's an example of a case where an OTIP letter was submitted by the facility but then a discretionary HS was requested since OTIP had not yet made a determination on the case. This is very confusing for the HS provider, as noted below, because of previous practice.

Good afternoon, Harmony,
After this discretionary home study was referred to USCRI, we learned that an OTIP referral had been made on behalf of the minor by the facility. Therefore, I reached out to the assigned FFS asking if the home study would be reclassified as a TVPRA-mandated home study since it seemed the minor might be a potential trafficking victim (please see email chain below). FFS Ruben Pelayo replied that the case would remain a discretionary home study for now.
Here are some details from the SIR for this minor who was raped by her 20-year-old neighbor and then forced by her grandmother/caregiver in home country to go live with the rapist:
Assigned clinician met with UC for session. UC disclosed to clinician that she was forced to live with him by grandmother due to fear of her being pregnant. She reported she was held against her will by the perpetrator and reported his mother treated her horribly. UC reported that she was not "taken back" by her grandmother. She reported she went to go do a "mandado" (errand) and the perpetrator's mother informed perpetrator that she had left him and left with someone else. She heard from others that he was looking for her and she feared for her life as he was telling others "si yo no la puedo tener, nadie la va tener" (if I can't have her no one will). UC stated she went to her grandmother and told her everything. UC reported she remained in her grandmother's home for approximately a month, more or less, and did not go outside in fear. She reported the perpetrator would come over often and wait outside the home for her. The perpetrator made threats such as "si no me la train patras, me voy a llevar una de ellas" (if you don't bring her back I will take one of them[in reference to her younger sisters]). UC's family decided it would be safe for her to travel and be in care of her older brother and away from the perpetrator.

To my understanding case was referred to OTIP for precautionary measures but it is still not determined by OTIP if she meets trafficking criteria. For now case should remain a discretionary home study. If anything changes case manager will notify you and your team immediately.

I am following up on the case of (b)(6) (A (b)(6) whom ORR is considering releasing to his foster parents. I spoke with the adoption expert at USCIS and she is going to get back to me about whether there is any way releasing him to his foster parents could hurt his adoption case.

The Hague Convention on Adoption does not come into play here since the UC is already in the U.S. and is a lawful permanent resident.

We discussed termination of parental rights in both (b)(6)

(Dad) and (b)(6)

(mom) and lack of birth certificate. The UAC portal notes said there was a hospital record with mom's name, child's name and correct date of birth. Does ORR have that document since family/juvenile court will need to be proof of who his biological parents are. Has anyone at ORR been in touch with the Mom, (b)(6) in the past 1-2 years? The(b)(6)

Is there any further information for why the child didn't reunify with her? There is documentation but the short answer is that this lady was a fraud and was not related to UC. (b)(6)
(b)(6) UAC Portal notes said child was told he was coming to US to reunify with mom. if I recall correctly he thought he was coming to be with a lady not sure who she was and was coached all the way to the border. I have the program already working on a summary for you. This case has more information that was before the portal became active and is in the permanent file.
Has anyone at ORR been in touch with the Dad in (b)(6) There was none as per research and efforts. Also, does the UC have any contact with either parent via Skype.

There is no contacts, or no BC.

letters, phone calls, etc.

A lawyer specializing in adoption will be able to advise the foster parents how to give notice to the biological parents and start the process of termination of parental rights. I should have an answer from USCIS by tomorrow COB. Thanks for working so hard to help this little boy. Great example of the important work you do every day in the field.

Child Care

Maine has a child care access problem and untapped resources to address it

In Maine, 15 percent of parents with kids younger than 6 reported in 2011 and 2012 that child care issues affected their employment, according to the national KIDS COUNT data center. For lower income families, those with incomes below 200 percent of the federal poverty level, the effect was more pronounced: 18 percent of those parents said child care issues had affected their employment status.

Subject: FW: (b)(6) has been granted asylum

Hi Ivonne,
The minor's maternal Uncle (b)(6) and his wife (b)(6) are the family members who are in the USA and have agreed to take (b)(6) nto their care (b)(6) was the first identified sponsor but due to an OSSI referral, was ruled out by FFS at previous program. The uncle resides at (b)(6) Program has confirmed relationship with a trail of BC.
and his wife have been very supportive throughout minor's stay in ORR care and have even come to visit him at the facility. They are on standby to drive up to pick him up from BCFS.
Please advise if I am approved to finalize release of this minor with asylum status from ORR care to his maternal uncle.

Good afternoon Elicia and Ivonne,
'm writing with the excellent news that $\frac{(b)(6)}{(b)(6)}$ (A $\frac{(b)(6)}{(b)(6)}$ was granted sylum as of 3/6/17. We only found out on Monday 3/20/17 and I received his approval notice oday.(b) has his notice and I-94 and will give t to him when she seems him tomorrow at BCFS Fairfield. s no longer an inaccompanied child as he has legal status and his removal proceedings were terminated on 3/20/17. ORR thus no longer has a legal basis for custody of and must release
nim. I'm attaching scans of his approval notice, his I-94, and the judge's order erminating proceedings. (b)(6) has family in (b)(6) with whom he wishes to live. He turns 18 on (b)(6) At this time we are advocating that he be released to his amily as quickly as possible. (b) and I welcome a conversation with ORR and BCFS to blan for his prompt transition out of custody.

Would you all happen to have the official abortion approval memo for this minor listed? I did received the email stating that it was approved in June of 2016, but we never received the memo with the official signature.

Due to the heightened medical procedures, the program is asking for the official memo for their records.

Please let me know if we should be requesting this elsewhere. .

Hi Kate,

Grandmother was also ruled out and no other sponsors have come forward. Uncle has maintained contact with Case Manager and stated an intent to learn more from ORR regarding the conditions of his sponsorship denial. FFS denied Uncle after OSSI referral while UC was in care at SWK Casa Kokopeli. FFS Will Calero has sent me the FP to review.

Due to the fact that both Grandmother and Uncle were not viable sponsors per ORR policy, current care plan is to submit Post 18 plan to FOJC two weeks prior to age out. We have a smooth Post 18 process established in collaboration with programs, LSC and the San Francisco FOJC. Plans generally utilize services, support and housing offered through Lark Inn http://larkinstreetyouth.org/lark-inn/.

(b)(6) Subject: UC requesting pregnancy termination Hello Dr. Bartholomew, I am writing in regards to female minor (b)(6) she is the youth that arrived at Las Palmas Program 924 and was requesting to terminate her pregnancy. At this time minor has been taken to OB/GYN appointment where it is confirmed that she is weeks bays pregnant. Case manager notified us that the only things pending to reunify minor was medical (xray, labs, ect). Upon requesting chest xray, PCP noted that youth's xray was abnormal. Although she is negative for TB condition, the following findings were documented. Findings as reported by Erica Yang MD: There is a dextroconvex thoracolumbar scoliosis measuring approx 8 degrees, with apex at T12-L1, with suspicion butterfly vertebrae at T12 and possibly T11. For this reason PCP is referring to neurologist for further evaluation. We have called to schedule an appointment for neurologist in which they are telling us that it will be about 3 weeks for an appointment and they need to verify they can see a pregnant minor. Taking into consideration her pregnancy and her decision to terminate, keeping her here will add weeks to her pregnancy to or about 12 weeks. I am asking for your guidance as to how to proceed from here. Will minor be able to proceed with pregnancy termination? (She still refuses to tell mom in COO, sponsor is aware of pregnancy) Is the neurologist visit necessary here or can that be followed up with upon reunification? Thank you in advance. Thank you, (b)(6)LVN Lead Medical Coordinator

I spoke with (b)(6) from LSC this morning and she's expecting an update from me by tomorrow afternoon 03/30/2017.

Per Ivonne's guidance this morning LSC and the BCFS Case Managers are working on a concurrent placement option with Huckleberry House. If there is capacity we're certain that he will be accepted as there are no behavioral or safety concerns regarding his release to the community. That said, I think that there are concerns about minor choosing to remain in care knowing that he prefers to live with his uncle.

Minor turns 18 on (b)(6) and maintains that he intends on living with his uncle. I believe that it is appropriate to release to this family member/uncle as this is the minor's desire and the long-term plan for this family.

Thank you,

Hello Jim and Ivonne,

Another family member confirmed that he is available to come pick (b)(6) up as well. The details are included below in the Case Worker Update below. I'm also including the programs current behavioral assessment to confirm that there are no concerns for this minor successfully integrating in the community. I don't have confirmation of HH acceptance yet but I will follow up in the morning.

Case Worker UPDATE: 3/29/17 CW received call from minor's maternal Uncle (b)(6) (b)(6) who lives in (b)(6) miles north of (b)(6) of $(0,0)$.
The relation is as follows: Minor's maternal grandmother is $(b)(6)$ ather's sister. stated he would be an alternative caregiver for $(b)(6)$ It is to be noted that stepped forward and accepted sponsorship for but was not viable at the time due to additional HHM that were unwilling to undergo the sponsorship requirements. (b)(6) added that he will be willing to seek other housing for them both, together with(b)(6) f he decided to stay in (b)(6) (b)(6) ultimately wanted to reside with additional family members in the (b)(6) area, Mr. (b)(6) would care for him until proper arrangements were made with family.
BCFS Fairfield SS BEHAVIORAL ASSESSMENT: Since arrival to program has been able to adhere to the behavioral standards of our program and was quickly promoted to our highest level (level 4) in our behavioral level system has successfully been able to maintain this level with only 3 behavioral issues (SIR) in his 150 days in care continues to pass all weekly risk assessments and has attended community outing with no issues to report as he does not present a risk to himself or the community.
Furthermore, a comprehensive safety plan has been created and discussed with (b)(6) with specific identified factors that will keep him on the right track. (b)(6) has stated that he wishes to earn his high school diploma and possibly later become a border patrol officer as he stated that he would understand the population he would work with be more empathetic to their situation.
(b)(6) and his family are aware if the great opportunity(b)(6) now has here in the US and are committed to take proper measures to assure that he stays on track and creates the life he desires. Lastly,

BCFS has no behavioral or mental health concerns that will prevent him from safely and successfully integrating into a new community.
Thank you,

Hi Ivonne,
The minor's maternal Uncle $(b)(6)$ and his wife $(b)(6)$ are the family members who are in the USA and have agreed to take $(b)(6)$ into their care $(b)(6)$ was the first identified sponsor but due to an OSSI referral, was ruled out by FFS at previous program. The uncle resides at $(b)(6)$ Program has confirmed relationship with a trail of BC.
and his wife have been very supportive throughout minor's stay in ORR care and have even come to visit him at the racility. They are on standby to drive up to pick him up from BCFS.
Please advise if I am approved to finalize release of this minor with asylum status from ORR care to his maternal uncle.
Best,

Will and or Ivonne,

Senior Management has directed us to ensure that the grantee or the federal field staff must notify parents of the termination in this case.

This should happen alongside of resources to the UAC for post-abortion counseling as part of post-release care.

I understand that as of yesterday travel plans were being arranged so there should be time to ensure these directives before (b)(6) s discharged from the program. If you have questions let me know, if I cannot answer the questions I will elevate to Senior Management.

Please let me know when the mother has been contacted and that one of you reviewed the post release service plan to ensure that resources for post-abortion counseling has been identified and explained to (b)(6) and her care provider.

Dear Ms. Carter:

This letter is the seventh interim response to your December 11, 2017, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)¹ request, which you submitted to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS or Department), Administration for Children and Families.

Specifically, you requested access to and copies of certain correspondence involving the following 11 officials and employees within the Department, Administration for Children and Families:

- · Scott Lloyd
- Maggie Wynne
- · Jonathan White
- · Curi Kim
- · Judith Haron
- · Anna Marie Bena
- · Scott Logan
- Tricia Swartz (Associate Deputy, ORR)
- · Jallyn Sualog (Director of Children Services)
- James De La Cruz (Houston Field Supervisor)
- · Dr. David Teuscher (Region 6 Director)

You also specifically requested access to and copies of all correspondence sent by, sent to, or carbon-copying ("CC") any of these individuals during the months of March, May, September or October 2017, which included any of the following 24 keywords or phrases:

- · "pregnancy"

Your request was forwarded to this office to conduct a search for records from custodians Maggie Wynne, Judith Haron and Dr. David Teuscher.

For this seventh interim response, the HHS Office of the Secretary has processed 916 pages of potentially responsive records captured in the agency's search of Maggie Wynne's records. After performing a careful review of those records, I have determined that 35 pages should be sent for consultation to other government agencies to review their equities and return to this office for final response to you. The disposition of the remaining records is as follows:

- 182 pages are being released in full;
- 259 pages are being fully withheld, pursuant to Exemption (b)(5);²
- 436 pages are being released with redactions, which were made pursuant to Exemptions (b)(5), and (b)(6) of the FOIA, and;³
- Four (4) pages are being referred to the Department of Justice for direct response.

The contact information for the Department of Justice FOIA office is below:

FOIA exemption (b)(5) protects inter-agency or intra-agency memoranda or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency. This exemption protects documents that would be covered by any privilege an agency could assert in a civil proceeding. These privileges include, among others, the deliberative process privilege, the attorney-client privilege, and the attorney work-product privilege.

Page 3 of 3 Request No. 2018-00042-C-OS Equity Forward v. HHS, Civil No. 18-0241 (D.D.C.)

FOIA exemption (b)(6) permits a Federal agency to withhold information and records about individuals in "personnel and medical files and similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy." The definition of "similar files" has historically been broadly interpreted to include a wide variety of files, and the United States Supreme Court has held that Congress intended the term "similar files" to be interpreted broadly, rather than narrowly. I have analyzed these records and find they meet the threshold requirement of this exemption. Additionally, I have reviewed and weighed the public interest in disclosure of this information against the privacy interest in nondisclosure, and found that the privacy interest outweighs the public's interest in disclosure.

We will continue to review the remaining records as efficiently and expeditiously as possible, consistent with our available resources and the Order of the Court. Should you have questions or concerns regarding the Department's response and\or the processing of your request, any such issues should be communicated to your legal counsel and Department of Justice Attorney representing the Department in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Michael S. Marquis

Subject: ACF Policy on Grants to Faith-Based Organizations

Here is the ACF page on Grants to Faith-Based Organizations, which appears to be an ACF policy, not an HHS policy.

https://www.acf.hhs.gov/acf-policy-on-grants-to-faith-based-organizations

ACF Policy on Grants to Faith-Based Organizations

The American people have long shown their considerable compassion and generosity through a broad range of community-based entities, including a diverse group of faith-based organizations. Faith-based groups provide critical human services, and, in emergencies, they consistently stand shoulder-to-shoulder with government in the first line of response. Our nation is stronger for their work.

As a result of the considerable capabilities of faith-based organizations, the federal government frequently provides grants or contracts to them to carry out needed services. For the Administration for Children and Families in HHS, faith-based organizations have long been and will continue to be partners in our work.

We are mindful that some potential grantees may have religious objections to providing certain kinds of services, including referrals. This administration is committed to providing the full range of legally permissible services to people who need them, and to doing so in a timely fashion and in a manner that respects the diverse religious and cultural backgrounds of those we serve. At the same time, we also are committed to finding ways for organizations to partner with us even if they object to providing specific services on religious grounds.

The following are ways in which organizations with such objections may be able to participate in human services programs:

• Serve as subgrantees: In many cases, subgrantees do not need to provide every service for which the grantee is responsible, so long as all clients served have access to all services required under the grant in a timely and respectful manner. Grantees must ensure that their overall program provides all of the required services, but grantees can use subgrantees to provide some services. Under this arrangement, as long as other subgrantees

- are readily available to provide clients with the objected-to services, a subgrantee may participate in the grant program while declining to provide services to which they have religious objection.
- Apply in a consortium: A second possibility is for faith-based organizations to apply in a consortium with one or more partners. The consortium would allow for a division of responsibility consistent with each organization's principles. Again, as long as clients have timely access to all required services, different organizations could divide up the services provided.
- Notify grantor: A third possibility in some circumstances would be for the grantee to notify the federal program office responsible for the grant if a client's needs or circumstances may require services, including referrals, to which the organization has a religious objection. It would then be the federal agency's responsibility to follow through with the needed services, or, if appropriate, transfer the case to another provider.

ACF will consider any combination of these approaches and is open to considering other approaches that would accomplish the goal of ensuring that people have access to a full range of services while enabling qualified faith-based organizations to participate in the delivery of those services in a manner consistent with their principles.

The United States has a unique history of providing a safe haven for people of all faiths while also upholding both the free exercise of religion and the non-establishment of religion, as basic Constitutional principles. In the tradition consistent with this history, the administration will continue to work to provide all necessary services to people in need, recognizing their diverse religious and cultural backgrounds, while respecting our faith-based partners' values.

The consortium would allow for a division of responsibility consistent with each organization's principles. Again, as long as clients have timely access to all required services, different organizations could divide up the services provided.
- Notify grantor: A third possibility in some circumstances would be for the grantee to notify the federal program office responsible for the grant if a client's needs or circumstances may require services, including referrals, to which the organization has a religious objection. It would then be the federal agency's responsibility to follow through with the needed services, or, if appropriate, transfer the case to another provider.

ACF will consider any combination of these approaches and is open to considering other approaches that would accomplish the goal of ensuring that people have access to a full range of services while enabling qualified faith-based organizations to participate in the delivery of those services in a manner consistent with their principles.

The United States has a unique history of providing a safe haven for people of all faiths while also upholding both the free exercise of religion and the non-establishment of religion, as basic Constitutional principles. In the tradition consistent with this history, the administration will continue to work to provide all necessary services to people in need, recognizing their diverse religious and cultural backgrounds, while respecting our faith-based partners' values.

(OS/IOS); Seidel, Elizabeth (OS/IEA) Subject: Power Point on Tribal 101

When coming back from the WH IHS tribal health event with secretary price, I told him about the PowerPoint you all had created that was a Tribal 101.

I asked him if he wanted to see that before he went to Oklahoma. He indicated he would.

I had made an edited version which cut down the 50/60 slides that you all had come up with, but when I went to retrieve it on my computer, it talked about "corrupted" and I couldn't pull it up.

Stacey and Liz- are you able to send me that PowerPoint again?

Katie L- when is the drop dead point for getting something in his book for the weekend?

Thanks!

OMB just learned that the House Homeland Security Committee is scheduled to markup HR 3548 on October 4th. As such, the new deadline for review of this referral is 1:00 P.M., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29. My apologies for the compressed timeframe. Also, the latest version of the bill is attached in Word and PDF formats and in case it is helpful, OMB has also given us a redline document comparing the latest bill text to the version that was originally circulated.

Thanks

Michelle

Hi all,

Attached are the updates I've received this week from the OpDivs and StaffDivs. There is a change in procedure for this, as I have only included NEW items, not the entire report. Hopefully this makes the process a little easier for everyone. Please send back with your edits by Monday at noon. Thank you all!

Hi all,

Attached is the final draft of the May 2nd 30-day look-ahead we have submitted to Cabinet Affairs. Please note the changes made and work with your OpDivs and StaffDivs as they prepare this week's edits. Also, Lance would like the OpDivs and StaffDivs to create these reports "for the Secretary", not Cabinet Affairs, although the memo information has been changed on the final draft. Please keep this in mind when working with them.

If you have any questions on the final product, or anything regarding this process, please let me know. Thank you all so much for your hard work in getting this done. It should get much easier from here on out!

Hi all,

Attached is what I have received from the OpDivs and StaffDivs based on the request that went out from Ann. I have compiled them for you all to review, divided by OpDiv/StaffDiv.

Please edit this document as you see fit for Cabinet Affairs to receive. Please highlight the policy issues and the scheduling items that SHOULD be in the final report and return to me by COB Monday. I will go back through and edit/reformat everything based on your recommendations for y'all to take a look at on Monday.

Fair warning, the document is 50 pages long as is. I really appreciate all your help on this! Let me know if you have any questions! Have a wonderful weekend.

Importance: High

Hi all,

Attached is what I have received from the OpDivs and StaffDivs based on the request that went out from Ann. I have compiled them for you all to review, divided by OpDiv/StaffDiv.

Please edit this document as you see fit for Cabinet Affairs to receive. Please highlight the policy issues and the scheduling items that SHOULD be in the final report and return to me by COB Monday. I will go back through and edit/reformat everything based on your recommendations for y'all to take a look at on Monday.

Fair warning, the document is 50 pages long as is. I really appreciate all your help on this! Let me know if you have any questions! Have a wonderful weekend.

Best,
Molly Gartland
Special Assistant to the Chief of Staff

Hello Margaret,

I hope that you are well and enjoying the beautiful weather. I am following up on our brief contact at the WHA Listening Session last Friday, through Wendy Wright.

It was a pleasure to meet you, and as we discussed, I would be interested in participating in commissions or other HHS activities, and in other roles as well.

If you'd like to discuss this further, I would be happy to do so; please let me know and we can set up a time to talk (or communicate by e-mail).

My CV is attached.

Thank you very much and I look forward to hearing from you.

David,

If you want to give me a call, I have a bit more information I can provide on this expert whose resume I'm forwarding for consideration for boards and commissions.

I met her last Friday at the Office of Global Affairs listening session in preparation for the upcoming World Health Assembly, and I suggested she send me her resume/CV and name any boards or commissions on which she might wish to be considered to serve. She didn't provide that last information.

David,

Is it okay if I outsource this to Juanita to do most of the review of materials and provide a recommendation?

The recommendation will still ultimately be mine, not Juanita's.

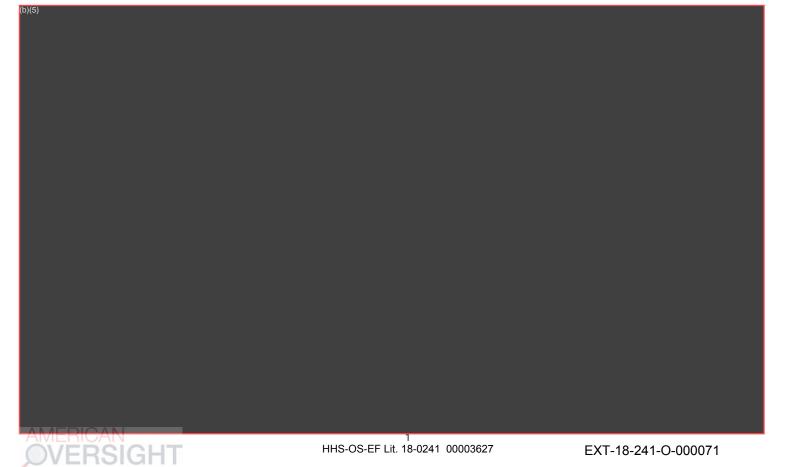

Thanks,,

Subject: Week in Review

Dear Team:

This past week, HHS personnel from across the Department continued to respond to our fellow Americans devastated by Hurricane Harvey and Hurricane Irma.

A National Disaster Medical System team from HHS joined the first wave of federal responders transported to the Florida Keys as part of the Trump Administration's government-wide efforts to provide relief to those affected by Hurricane Irma. The team was sent to establish a mobile medical unit and begin providing care to assist a local hospital.

HHS personnel, including U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps officers, were also dispatched to other areas of Florida to help local healthcare workers in caring for evacuees in shelters, as well as to provide care at a shelter in Puerto Rico and at an overwhelmed hospital emergency department in St. Thomas.

For the first time in HHS history, our medical personnel embedded with Defense Department urban search and rescue teams to find and rescue dialysis patients who did not respond to local authorities' messages to evacuate from St. Thomas. To find the patients, the territory used the emPOWER Initiative created by ASPR and CMS. HHS helped the territory evacuate the 137 dialysis patients living on the island.

ACF employees continue to coordinate with the departments of State and Defense to evacuate American citizens from the island of St. Martin. The ACF Office of Refugee Resettlement initiated repatriation efforts to ensure that Americans were safely transported back to American soil.

The FDA team is conferring with farmers, consumer representatives, and state officials about how crops may be impacted by hurricanes Irma and Harvey and about the proper handling of crops that have been exposed to floodwaters and possible contaminants.

SAMHSA's Disaster Distress Helpline remains available 24/7 to provide behavioral health support to people impacted by the crises and in the first three weeks of the storms aided more than 3,100 helpline callers.

Thank you to everybody who has been working and continues to work 24/7 to ensure swift response and recovery. Previous updates regarding HHS activities related to hurricane responses can be found on hhs.gov. To learn more about HHS resources related to the 2017 hurricanes, visit the HHS disaster and public health emergency site.

Besides working directly to assist our fellow Americans who are struggling in the aftermath of the hurricanes, many HHS employees have asked how they could help their colleagues in the affected areas. Now, in concert with OPM guidance, HHS has established an emergency leave transfer program.

The program allows you to donate unused annual leave from one to 104 hours to HHS employees who are adversely affected by the disaster and who need additional time off from work. Learn more about the program at http://intranet.hhs.gov/hr/hurricane-leave.html.

Here are some other updates from around the Department:

Opioid Listening Tour and Grants

As you are aware, no corner of our country, from rural areas to urban centers, has escaped the scourge of the opioid crisis. On Thursday, HRSA Administrator George Sigounas and I had the opportunity to visit Goodwin Community Health in Somersworth, New Hampshire to make a major grant announcement from HRSA.

HRSA is awarding more than $200 million to 1,178 health centers and 13 rural health organizations in every state, D.C., Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the Pacific Basin to increase access to substance abuse and mental health services, especially for those suffering from opioid addiction.

As Dr. Sigounas said: "In health centers, where people are often most comfortable, staff with varied expertise have a unique opportunity to provide mental health and substance abuse services to patients who wouldn't otherwise seek or have access to treatment."

Other new investments we announced included:

- About $ 2.5 million from HRSA to help 10 rural health organizations increase access to treatment and recovery services for opioid abuse under the Rural Health Opioid Program.
- About $670,000 from HRSA under the Substance Abuse Treatment Telehealth Network Grant Program for three rural organizations to use evidence-based, telehealth programs and networks to improve access to substance abuse treatment in rural, frontier, and underserved communities.

On Friday, Kellyanne Conway, counselor to President Trump, and I traveled to the southern suburbs of Philadelphia to continue our listening tour to learn from those on the front lines battling the opioid epidemic. The session was hosted by the Mirmont Treatment Center where we met with recovery advocates, law enforcement officials, treatment and prevention specialists, survivors, and affected family members.

At Mirmont Treatment Center, Kellyanne Conway, counselor to the President, and I heard about the opioid crisis from people on the front lines. Photo Credit: HHS.

We also announced $144.1 million in grants administered by SAMHSA, to prevent opioid use disorder, treat overdoses and help pregnant and parenting women recover from addiction. These grants will go to 58 recipients, including states, cities, healthcare providers, and community organizations.

Tribal Meeting at the White House

On Wednesday, it was an honor to attend a meeting with tribal leaders at the White House to discuss our three clinical priorities: the opioid crisis, serious mental illness, and childhood obesity. The event was a testament to President Trump and his Administration's commitment to tribal issues and to maintaining a strong, positive government-to-government relationship.

This week, we plan to visit the Pawnee and Cherokee Nations and attend the first-ever meeting of the Secretary's Tribal Advisory Council in Indian Country.

Also in Indian Country, HHS officials are in contact with tribes, states and local communities impacted by the wildfires in 10 western states. IHS regional directors for the Portland and Billings areas have reached out to the tribes and are getting updates on the fires and health issues, especially upper respiratory problems for the elderly. Two California tribes reported that they had moved some of their elderly members to the coast in order to avoid smoke irritation.

ACF is also monitoring the fires and is prepared to help if there are potential human services disruptions. Thankfully, there are currently no fire dangers near IHS facilities.

State-Federal Partnerships

On Wednesday, we had the opportunity to meet with governors' chiefs of staff, other state officials and federal liaisons at the White House last week to talk about our commitment to state-federal partnerships. We assured them that the Trump Administration and HHS believe that local leaders are best equipped to understand the constantly changing needs of patients within their own states. That's why HHS is committed to ushering in a new era of collaboration with the states on healthcare and human services.

The states are integral to the delivery of healthcare and human services and overcoming the major public health challenges we face, including our three clinical priorities.

New Medicare Card Design

On Thursday, CMS gave the public its first look at the newly designed Medicare card to help prevent fraud and identity theft. The new card contains a unique, randomly-assigned number that replaces the current Social Security-based number.

CMS will begin mailing the new cards in April 2018 to people with Medicare benefits. All existing Medicare cards are required to be replaced by April 2019. The new cards will not change benefits that people with Medicare receive.

Suicide Prevention Awareness

One of the most heart-breaking public health challenges is suicide. The tragedy it represents demands a proactive and coordinated response from the public sector, local communities and civil society. Particularly during National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month in September and last week's National Suicide Prevention Awareness Week, we need to remind ourselves that working together with compassion and commitment, we can make a difference and reduce the number of Americans dying by suicide – including our veterans, youth and older adults.

Agencies across the Department and our public and private partners at the National Action Alliance for Suicide Prevention are raising awareness of what we each can do to reduce suicide. Last week, SAMHSA awarded $14.5 million in new grants for suicide prevention, under the Zero Suicide program and Cooperative Agreements to Implement the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention.

Remember: If you or someone you know is struggling with suicidal thoughts or you think is at risk of suicide, call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 1-800-273-TALK (8255), a 24-hour toll-free confidential hotline.

I am always impressed by the generosity of spirit, compassion and commitment in the work and lives of the people at HHS. It's a privilege for me to be a part of the team.

Thank you for all that you do on behalf of our fellow Americans.

Hi Emily,

Could you please send us the following by 12pm Wednesday, March 8?

- Bios (1 page or less for each) for ACF Leadership that will be attending the first 15 minutes of the meeting
- Short Description about ACF (1-2 pages)
- If you have any Agency "hot topics" that you would like to highlight for the Secretary, you may provide those. You may include approximately 5 hot topics with a 1-2 sentence description for each. An example is attached.

Let me know if you have additional questions.

Thanks, Natasha

I will let John T speak to how the rest of the meetings with the OpDivs have gone.

I know we are interested in doing it however y'all think will be best. He can do 15 minutes with the senior staff and then do 30 minutes where he speaks to the rest of the team and takes questions. It is mostly just a meet and greet and for him to check out the office and meet the team. We do create a briefing binder for him so any information you would like him to have beforehand you can send to us and we will make sure it gets in his binder.

Thanks!

Hi Jessica,

No problem! Yes, we can make that work. With 45 minutes, does he have a preference on how the time is split between senior staff and the all hands?

Logistics prep:

- What information do you need from us in advance? We are happy to provide whatever is useful to you all and to
 Dr. Price. Please reach out to Natasha Wright and Katerina Horska on my staff there are specific items that they will need for the briefing book by Wed.
- Should we plan to have someone introduce Dr. Price? If so, is there something specific that we should prepare that person to say (like to read his bio)? In Similar meetings with other agencies Dr. Price walked in and introduced himself then Senior leadership introduced key staff. I can talk to you off line about how other offices did it.
- Does Dr. Price plan to take questions from staff at the all hands meeting? If so, does he prefer to receive questions in advance, or should we plan to open the floor for staff to ask questions? He typically gives a little bit about what his focus is and if time permits allowed for questions from the floor from staff. I imagine with 30 minutes and depending how large your staff is there should be time to take several questions. We have not sent him questions in advance of previous meetings with OpDivs. Although, in the materials that my staff pull together for the briefing book they will request hot topics and that is an opportunity to highlight any issues that you think he should know in advance. Natasha and Katerina can speak more to that.
- If he still wants to meet with senior staff separately, does he need any special information for that meeting, like a list of names/bios/pictures? Yes, Natasha and Katerina will need names and bio of senior leadership among other items which they will go over with you.

Angie, feel free to jump in if I'm missing anything!

Best, Emily

Hi Jessica.

I wasn't sure if you wanted me to make contact with ACF or just go directly to them. I am very okay with the latter.

The two principal points of contact are Amanda Barlow, who is ACF Acting Assistant Secretary, and Ben Goldhaber, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Administration in ACF. The main one is Amanda.

I'm not sure what kind of space they have there for an all-hands meeting. I would defer to Amanda about how to proceed.

I hope ACL might follow soon after. It is in the same building and will definitely hear about the ACF visit.

Hi all-

Secretary Price is interested in doing an OpsDiv Mtg. w/ ACF this week. I believe y'all are who I need to reach out to, to get this scheduled.

We were thinking about doing 15 minutes with leadership/ senior staff and then 15 minutes with the whole team. What do you think? In regards to the other OpsDiv mtg's Sec. Price toured the facility but I have been told that is not necessary for ACF. Let me know if you all have another idea for how this should go.

Sec. Price has Thursday 3/9 at 3:45open to do this. If this works for the ACF team.

Thank you,

Subject: RE: Grants 101 Meeting

All,

Thank you for the opportunity to provide you with a brief overview of grants administration at HHS yesterday afternoon.

During the briefing, a question was asked about the mandatory spending and CMS programs included in the FY2016 report for the Department. I've attached a spreadsheet which includes all of the mandatory programs included within the definition of Federal assistance for the Department by OPDIV, CFDA number, program name, number of awards and total dollars. The second tab includes all of the programs that reported federal assistance for CMS.

My office can run customized reports for you on any of the over 500,000 agreements awarded by the Department over the years. The reports can be sorted by various data elements such as OPDIV, Program, award activity, State, congressional district, recipient, fiscal year among other data fields. Please feel free to reach out to me anytime you need a customized report or you can develop your own personalized report at https://taggs.hhs.gov/SearchAdv.

I've also attached a soft copy of the presentation. Due to time constraints, I did not have an opportunity to complete the presentation so I just wanted to point out that slides 29-37 walks you thru the standard process of administering a grant agreement. All discretionary federal assistance programs at the Department follow this process with limited variations. If you have any additional questions, recommendations or would like a specific training on any portion of the Departments regulations, policies or procedures, please feel free to reach out to me.

Once again, thank you for your time and attention yesterday. If you have any suggestions or ideas for improving/streamlining/consolidating the administration of programs or the stewardship of federal funds I would be very interested in listening to and discussing your ideas.

I look forward to working with you and strengthening the efficiency and effectiveness of our HHS's federal assistance programs.

Best,

US Department of Health and Human Services

• Item: NURSE Corps Scholarship Continuation Application and Program Guidance (APG)

Category: Routine

Action Needed By: March 8

Summary: NURSE Corps allows current participants to serve full-time for one additional year at an eligible critical shortage facility or eligible school of nursing. It offers current participants who successfully complete their initial two-year service obligation an opportunity to further reduce their approved qualifying educational loans by an additional 25 percent in exchange for a third year of service.

Justification: The award date is September 30. HRSA plans to release the NURSE Corps Loan Scholarship Continuation APG the week of March 6.

Good afternoon,

Attached is the OLAB report for March 6-17. Items of note are:

- Eight bills related to a cross-cut of ACF programs, ANA, OFA, and ORR were introduced.
- Five dear colleague letters related to ACF, Head Start, Torture Victims, homeless programs, and pregnancy prevention/abstinence education programs were circulated.
- Summaries are available for recent hearings on Improving Outcomes for Youth in Juvenile Justice, Indian Affairs Priorities in the Trump Administration, HHS Appropriations related to early childhood development, and Home Visiting (MIECHV) reauthorization.
- Forty-one press releases related to child welfare, Head Start, Home Visiting, homeless youth, the President's Budget, refugees, and unaccompanied children were issued.
- Two new CRS reports on Missing and Exploited Children and El Salvador, which contains a discussion of unaccompanied children, are available.

Please let me know if you have any questions about items within the report.

Hi Courtney,

We don't believe there is a copyright on the SOAR material, but would need to double check our original contract documents to confirm.

Also, as background - One of the reasons we have not yet distributed SOAR broadly is because the content is still in its pilot phase and is going through enhancements via a contract. The current training is accredited so we need to be careful on how the content is distributed until we create a platform to scale the training more broadly for the public.

I'll get back to you once we've confirmed the copyright issue with our original contract documents.

Thanks, Preeti

SEC. __. TRAINING FOR HEALTH PROFESSIONALS.

Section 107(f) of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 (22 U.S.C. 7105(f)), as added by section 213(a)(1) of the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008 (Public Law 110–457), is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(4) Training for HEALTH PROFESSIONALS .—

"(A) DEFINITIONS.—In this paragraph—

- "(i) the term 'pilot program' means the Stop, Observe, Ask, and Respond to Health and Wellness Training pilot program established under subparagraph (B); and
 - "(ii) the term 'Secretary' means the Secretary of Health and Human Services.
- "(B) PILOT PROGRAM ESTABLISHED.—
 - "(i) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish a pilot program, which shall be known as the 'Stop, Observe, Ask, and Respond to Health and Wellness Training pilot program' or the 'SOAR to Health and Wellness Training pilot program'. The pilot program shall provide training on human trafficking to health care providers and other related providers, at all levels, in accordance with the objectives described in clause (ii).
 - "(ii) OBJECTIVES.—The objectives of the pilot program shall be to train health care providers and other related providers—
 - "(I) to identify potential human trafficking victims;
 - "(II) to implement proper protocols and procedures for working with law enforcement agencies to report human trafficking and facilitate communication with human trafficking victims, in accordance with all applicable Federal, State, local, and tribal requirements, including legal confidentiality requirements for patients and health care providers;
 - "(III) to implement proper protocols and procedures for referring such victims to appropriate social or victims service agencies or organizations;
 - "(IV) to provide such victims with care that is—
 - "(aa) coordinated;
 - "(bb) victim centered;
 - "(cc) culturally relevant;
 - "(dd) comprehensive;
 - "(ee) evidence based;
 - "(ff) gender responsive;
 - "(gg) age appropriate, with a focus on care for youth; and
 - "(hh) trauma informed; and
 - "(V) to consider the potential for integrating the training described in subclauses (I) through (IV) with existing training programs for victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, child abuse, child neglect, child maltreatment, or child sexual exploitation.
 - "(iii) Functions.—
 - "(I) IN GENERAL.—The functions of the pilot program shall include the functions of the Stop, Observe, Ask, and Respond to Health and Wellness Training program that was operating on the day before the date of enactment of this paragraph and the authorized initiatives described in subclause (II).
 - "(II) AUTHORIZED INITIATIVES.—The authorized initiatives of the pilot program shall include—
 - "(aa) engaging interested entities, including victims of human trafficking and any Federal, State, local, or tribal partners, to develop a flexible training module—
 - "(AA) for achieving the objectives described in clause (ii); and

- "(BB) that adapts to changing needs, settings, health care providers, and other related providers;
- "(bb) making grants available to support training in health care sites that represent diversity in—
 - "(AA) geography;
 - "(BB) the demographics of the population served;
 - "(CC) the predominate types of human trafficking cases; and
 - "(DD) health care provider profiles;
- "(cc) providing technical assistance for health education programs to implement nationwide health care protocol, or develop continuing education training materials, that assist in achieving the objectives described in clause (ii);
- "(dd) developing a strategy to incentivize the utilization of training materials developed under item (cc) and the implementation of nationwide health care protocol described in such item, as the Secretary determines appropriate; and
- "(ee) developing a reliable methodology for collecting data, and reporting such data, on the number of human trafficking victims identified and served in health care settings or other related provider settings.
- "(iv) TERMINATION.—The pilot program shall terminate on October 1, 2022.
- "(C) DATA COLLECTION AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—
 - "(i) DATA COLLECTION.—During each of the fiscal years 2018 through 2022, the Secretary shall collect data on—
 - "(I) the total number of facilities that were operating under the pilot program—
 - "(aa) during the previous fiscal year;
 - "(bb) between the previous fiscal year and the date of enactment of this paragraph; and
 - "(cc) between the date of enactment of this paragraph and the date of establishment of the Stop, Observe, Ask, and Respond to Health and Wellness Training program that was operating on the day before the date of enactment of this paragraph; and
 - "(II) the total number of health care providers and other related providers trained through the pilot program—
 - "(aa) during the previous fiscal year;
 - "(bb) between the previous fiscal year and the date of enactment of this paragraph; and
 - "(cc) between the date of enactment of this paragraph and the date of establishment of the Stop, Observe, Ask, and Respond to Health and Wellness Training program that was operating on the day before the date of enactment of this paragraph.
 - "(ii) REPORTING.—Not later than 90 days after the first day of each of the fiscal years 2018 through 2022, the Secretary shall prepare and submit to Congress a report on the data collected under clause (i)."

I'm guessing it's not. If the content was created under an HHS contract, HHS owns it.

Hi Courtney,

We don't believe there is a copyright on the SOAR material, but would need to double check our original contract documents to confirm.

Also, as background - One of the reasons we have not yet distributed SOAR broadly is because the content is still in its pilot phase and is going through enhancements via a contract. The current training is accredited so we need to be careful on how the content is distributed until we create a platform to scale the training more broadly for the public.

I'll get back to you once we've confirmed the copyright issue with our original contract documents.

Thanks, Preeti

Hi Maggie,

Please see attached for the info memo and FOA for the item below. This has been on the list since 2/17, but in my review today, I realized that ACF never sent to materials necessary for your review.

Item: Head Start and/or Early Head Start Funding Opportunity Announcements Publication – Discretionary Award

Action Needed By: March 1, 2017

Summary: This document requests publication of the Head Start and/or Early Head Start Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOA), for the Office of Head Start (OHS) within the Administration for Children and Families (ACF), Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

Justification: In order to ensure the timely disbursement of funds appropriated by Congress, and in accordance with the Head Start Act, these FOAs must be published in a timeframe that allows applicants 60 days to prepare their applications, and for ACF to review and process applications. OHS intends to award funding by early summer so that awardees will have sufficient time to prepare stand up operations for the coming school year, with minimal disruption to services for children and families.

Good Morning Maggie,

Per Page 1, Item 1 on the 5/12 Week Ahead Report, please see attached documents related to the Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) Legal Training and Technical Assistance (T/TA) Center

This document requests approval of two action items:

- 1. The publication of the FOA
- 2. The FOA pre-application webinar

ACF intends to announce the availability of $300,000 to be competitively awarded to support the CSBG Legal T/TA Center. The CSBG Legal T/TA Center is a 3-year T/TA cooperative agreement that focuses on strengthening and expanding the capacity of CSBG-eligible entities to deal with legal issues, especially issues that significantly impact the administrative, fiscal, and programmatic policies and operating procedures of agencies funded under CSBG.

To: McGuffee, Tyler Ann (HHS/IOS); Aramanda, Alec (HHS/IOS) Subject: Sen. Cornyn: Question on Adoption Assistance Program

Claire Sanderson in Senator Cornyn's office asked for a call next week to discuss the Adoption Assistance Program at ACF. Below is the information she sent that she wants to discuss:

Thank you all for your help on interpreting the Family First legislation last year.

I was hoping y'all would be able to help clear a few things up for me regarding the Adoption Assistance Program. Maybe we can set up a call next week?

Please find attached a Notice for Public Comment the Children's Bureau published in the Federal Register in March 2015. According to the Public Comment, it seems y'all were interested in comments on whether CB should amend the Child Welfare Policy Manual concerning the ability to suspend payments to parents receiving adoption assistance payments under certain circumstances. However, I just looked and it doesn't appear that anything has been done in response to this including any changes to the Child Welfare Policy Manual. Where does this currently stand at HHS. May y'all share the if/why no action was taken?

May you please also clear up whether states can end payments based on the states determination of eligibility? Below is what I understand is current policy.

- 1) I'm told some states do occasionally go back to check on families as part of working to be sure the permanency is stable how many, no one knows.
 - a. Do y'all have this information?
- 2) States however cannot do redeterminations of eligibility. They are only able to end a payment without the parent's agreement if they can show that one of the three conditions below is met

Part of the highlighted text below points to a child who may be receiving adoption assistance and also in foster care (the OH example below). Once the state determined the parent was no longer providing any support the state could end the adoption assistance agreement – however I'm told support doesn't have to just be financial so if there is an issue with an adoption that place the child in foster care but the parent is visiting and continuing to support the child in any way, the state cannot end the adoption assistance payment unless the adoptive parent agrees.

Thank you- Claire

While the Child Welfare Policy Manual itself does not prohibit states from re-determining eligibility (though it explicitly does not require states to re-determine eligibility), the HHS ACF has taken the extraordinary step of barring states from periodically re-determining eligibility for adoption assistance payments: "ACF advised against any intensive or intrusive inquiry into an adoptive family's life. . . . ACF informed [New York State] that the state cannot terminate or suspend adoption assistance if the adoptive parents fail to reply to the state's request for information." Therefore, while the state may request information from the adoptive parents relating to the continued eligibility for adoption assistance benefits, the adoptive parents may ignore such requests with impunity. New York State Office of Children & Family Services, Administrative Directive, 09-OCFS-ADM-11 [PDF], Adoption Subsidy and Education Requirements for Adoptive Children (May 7, 2009).

HHS spokesperson Shari Brown stated the agency's position even more bluntly, saying that "suspensions or reductions in a title IV-E adoption assistance payment are not permitted without the concurrence of the adoptive parents. . . ." Email message from Shari Brown to David J. Lansner, October 11, 2011.

The HHS interpretation of the statue thus makes it extremely difficult for the states to carry out their obligation to determine whether the adoptive parent is actually supporting the child. Indeed, at least one state has concluded that, even if the state knows that the adoptive parent is not supporting the child, the state is prohibited from suspending adoption assistance payments to the parent. In Ohio, even if an adopted child goes into foster care and the government is supporting the child, the state may not suspend adoption assistance payments to the parents. The most that the state of Ohio believes it can do in such a situation is to "renegotiate" the amount of the adoption assistance payment "with the concurrence of the adoptive parent." See the Adoption Subsidy and Policy Blog.

I will let John T speak to how the rest of the meetings with the OpDivs have gone.

I know we are interested in doing it however y'all think will be best. He can do 15 minutes with the senior staff and then do 30 minutes where he speaks to the rest of the team and takes questions. It is mostly just a meet and greet and for him to check out the office and meet the team. We do create a briefing binder for him so any information you would like him to have beforehand you can send to us and we will make sure it gets in his binder.

Thanks!

Hi Jessica,

No problem! Yes, we can make that work. With 45 minutes, does he have a preference on how the time is split between senior staff and the all hands?

Logistics prep:

- What information do you need from us in advance? We are happy to provide whatever is useful to you all and to
 Dr. Price. Please reach out to Natasha Wright and Katerina Horska on my staff there are specific items that they will need for the briefing book by Wed.
- Should we plan to have someone introduce Dr. Price? If so, is there something specific that we should prepare that person to say (like to read his bio)? In Similar meetings with other agencies Dr. Price walked in and introduced himself then Senior leadership introduced key staff. I can talk to you off line about how other offices did it.
- Does Dr. Price plan to take questions from staff at the all hands meeting? If so, does he prefer to receive questions in advance, or should we plan to open the floor for staff to ask questions? He typically gives a little bit about what his focus is and if time permits allowed for questions from the floor from staff. I imagine with 30 minutes and depending how large your staff is there should be time to take several questions. We have not sent him questions in advance of previous meetings with OpDivs. Although, in the materials that my staff pull together for the briefing book they will request hot topics and that is an opportunity to highlight any issues that you think he should know in advance. Natasha and Katerina can speak more to that.
- If he still wants to meet with senior staff separately, does he need any special information for that meeting, like a list of names/bios/pictures? Yes, Natasha and Katerina will need names and bio of senior leadership among other items which they will go over with you.

Angie, feel free to jump in if I'm missing anything!

Best, Emily

The two principal points of contact are Amanda Barlow, who is ACF Acting Assistant Secretary, and Ben Goldhaber, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Administration in ACF. The main one is Amanda.

I'm not sure what kind of space they have there for an all-hands meeting. I would defer to Amanda about how to proceed.

I hope ACL might follow soon after. It is in the same building and will definitely hear about the ACF visit.

Hi all—

Secretary Price is interested in doing an OpsDiv Mtg. w/ ACF this week. I believe y'all are who I need to reach out to, to get this scheduled.

We were thinking about doing 15 minutes with leadership/ senior staff and then 15 minutes with the whole team. What do you think? In regards to the other OpsDiv mtg's Sec. Price toured the facility but I have been told that is not necessary for ACF. Let me know if you all have another idea for how this should go.

Sec. Price has Thursday 3/9 at 3:45open to do this. If this works for the ACF team.

Thank you,

Subject: FYI - ACF staff will be presenting CFSR findings to CT legislature

Attachments: Connecticut 2016 CFSR Final Report.docx

Maggie,

For your awareness, the Children's Bureau staff in Region 1 have been asked to present the findings of the Child and Family Services Review to the Connecticut legislature on Monday. This is the second time they have presented the results as the child welfare agency wanted a private presentation first. The state asked the regional staff to come back and do the same presentation for the legislature. We learned today that the regions' presentation may be televised. This has happened fairly frequently in the past with CFSRs in states where meetings of this type are required to be public.

A short summary of the report is attached. The results are not substantively better or worse than any of the findings from the other states thus far. I've attached a short summary so you can get a sense of what we found. The report has already been made widely available in the state and the state is working to get out from under a consent decree. Here is an article that's already been published:

Federal Audit: DCF Struggles To Assess Risk To Children In Troubled Households

The regional folks do these presentations all the time and states do sometimes televise them.

If you would like additional information or if there are concerns, let us know.

Hi Maggie,

Per Page 2, Item 1 on the 4/21 Week Ahead Report, please see attached documents related to the memo and FOA (Word & PDF versions) for Transitional Living Program and Maternity Group Homes.

FYSB is requesting approval to publish the FOA to the Grants.gov website. ACF intends to announce the availability of $20,056,829 to be competitively awarded to implement, enhance, and/or support effective strategies for successful transition to sustainable living for runaway and homeless youth ages 16 to under 22 and/or pregnant and parenting youth ages 16 to under 22, and their dependent children. This FOA was previously posted in 2013 and individual grant awards were for a 5-year project period with five, 1-year budget periods of up to $200,000 per year. (b)(6)

Hi Maggie,

Per Page 1, Item 2 on the 4/21 Week Ahead Report, please see attached for the Street Outreach Program (SOP) FOA (Word and PDF versions) and memo.

FYSB is requesting approval to publish the FOA to the Grants.gov website. ACF intends to announce the availability of $2,754,733 to be competitively awarded for the SOP. The purpose of the program is to provide prevention and intervention services to runaway, homeless, and street youth who have been subjected to or are at risk of being subjected to sexual abuse, prostitution, sexual exploitation, and severe forms of human trafficking. This FOA was previously posted in FY 2016 and individual grant awards were for a 3-year project period with three, 1-year, budget periods of up to $200,000 per year. (b)(5)

Hi Maggie,

Per Page 2, Item 2 on the 4/21 Week Ahead Report, please see attached for the Basic Center Program (BCP) FOA (Word & PDF versions) and memo. This is the last new item on the 4/21 Week Ahead report.

FYSB is requesting approval to publish the FOA to the Grants.gov website. ACF intends to announce the availability of $16,587,189 to be competitively awarded for the provision of temporary shelter and counseling services to youth who have left home without permission of their parents or guardians, have been forced to leave home, or other homeless youth who might otherwise end up in the law enforcement or in the child welfare, mental health, or juvenile justice systems. This FOA was previously posted in Fiscal Year (FY) 2016 and grants were awarded for a ceiling amount of $200,000 or floor amount of $50,000, with average awards being $146,428.

Subject: Home Visiting Evidence of Effectiveness (HomVEE) Executive Summary and Summary

Brief

Colleagues:

The Maternal, Infant and Early Childhood Home Visiting (MIECHV) Program, which provides grants to states, territories, and tribes, is jointly administered by HRSA and ACF. The home visiting legislation reserves the majority of funding for home visiting models with evidence of effectiveness, and required the Secretary to establish criteria for evidence of effectiveness.

ACF's Office of Planning, Research and Evaluation (OPRE) has the lead role for determining which home visiting models have evidence of effectiveness. OPRE oversees the Home Visiting Evidence of Effectiveness (HomVEE) systematic review of the evidence of effectiveness for home visiting models that target families with pregnant women and children from birth to kindergarten entry. As we have done for the past several years, we have updated the HomVEE with results of new reviews of home visiting program models.

Today, are publishing updated materials related to the review. These publications include an executive summary that provides detailed information on all 45 home visiting models reviewed by HomVEE and a summary brief that describes the review process, review results, and the 20 program models determined to meet criteria for an "evidence-based early childhood home visiting service delivery model." This year's review does not add to the list of evidence-based models. We do not anticipate press interest.

In brief, this year HomVEE:

- Updated one previously reviewed model that already meets DHHS criteria for an evidence-based early childhood home visiting service delivery model: Family Check-Up® for Children (see below for a description of the model).
- Updated 4 implementation profiles:
 - Family Check-Up®,
 - Home Instruction for Parents of Preschool Youngsters® (HIPPY),
 - Parents as Teachers® (PAT), and
 - SafeCare[®].

•	Updated the Tribal Report that summarizes the systematic review HomVEE conducted that focuses specifically on studies relevant to tribal communities. This report describes the review process, presents descriptive information about the program models reviewed, and describes the lessons learned across the reviewed studies, with a focus on cultural relevance and implementation.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Family Check-Up Model

Family Check-Up (FCU) for Children is designed as a preventative program model to help parents address typical challenges that arise with young children before these challenges become more serious or problematic. The program model focuses on high-risk families, where normative challenges are more likely to lead to unfavorable outcomes, such as child conduct problems. FCU seeks to decrease children's conduct, academic, and internalizing problems; reduce maternal depression; and increase parental involvement and positive parenting. FCU for Children is made up of three home visits with an FCU provider who has been trained in the program model. After the three home visits, the provider makes recommendations for a family-based intervention tailored to the needs of the family, such as parent management training, preschool consultation, or community referrals. For the purpose of the HomVEE review, only studies of sites that used home visiting as the primary service delivery method and that included families with children from birth to age 5 were included.

Updated Tribal Report: "Assessing the Research on Home Visiting Program Models Implemented in Tribal Communities" This systematic review focuses specifically on studies relevant to tribal communities. The results of this review of home visiting in tribal communities are summarized in two parts. Part 1 describes the review process and findings and presents descriptive information about the program models reviewed. Part 2 describes the lessons learned across the reviewed studies, with a focus on cultural relevance and implementation. It also proposes considerations for supporting program implementation in tribal communities and for strengthening research on tribal home visiting programs. The review included studies of home visiting program models implemented in tribal communities in the U.S., implemented in indigenous communities outside the U.S., or evaluated with American Indian and Alaska Native families and children. The review was originally released in February 2011; the updated version includes studies identified by HomVEE search strategies as of a literature search conducted in early 2016.

Subject: Forthcoming: Two implementation briefs from the PREP Multi-Component Evaluation

Colleagues:

This week OPRE and FYSB plan to release two briefs titled "Implementing a Teen Pregnancy Prevention Program in Rural Kentucky" and "Wise Guys: Implementing a Boys-Only Teen Pregnancy Prevention Program in Davenport, Iowa." We do not anticipate press interest in these publications.

The Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP) was authorized by Congress in 2010. The program, which is overseen by FYSB, is designed to educate adolescents on both abstinence and contraception for the prevention of pregnancy. The program must also address healthy transition to young adulthood by addressing adulthood preparation subjects mandated by Congress. Most of the PREP funding ($55.25 million of $75 million, annually) is designated for formula grants to states and territories.

This brief is part of an evaluation project jointly overseen by OPRE and FYSB. The PREP Multi-Component Evaluation has three primary study components: 1) a broad descriptive study of state PREP grantees; 2) performance measure data collection and analysis from all PREP grantees; and 3) a random assignment impact study of four PREP programs. These briefs summarize the key implementation findings from two previously published reports (i.e., Adapting an Evidence-based Curriculum in a Rural Setting: Implementing Reducing the Risk in Kentucky and Focusing on the Boys: Implementing Wise Guys in Davenport, Iowa). The program in Kentucky is implementing a curriculum in relatively low-income, mostly rural high schools. The program in Iowa is designed specifically for males, is being implemented in middle schools and aims to promote male responsibility while helping prevent teenage pregnancy.

Implementing a Teen Pregnancy Prevention Program in Rural Kentucky - KEY FINDINGS

Two local health departments implemented the program, an Adapted Version of Reducing the Risk, in a largely rural region, with teen pregnancy rates nearly twice the national average and a median income 20 percent below that of the nation as a whole. School and program staff reported that area youth have few services available to them related to sex education, contraception, and sexually transmitted diseases (STDs).
Health educators in the region described an environment in which teenage pregnancy is the norm among many families and part of a cycle of poverty that has been limiting the prospects of area youth for generations. Health educators indicated that many parents in the community did not talk to their children about sexuality and contraception. At study enrollment, students in the participating schools reported little knowledge about contraception.

- Staff at these health districts shortened the original 12-hour curriculum to 8 hours to fit within the time allotted by area schools to deliver the program. The revised Reducing the Risk curriculum covers the full set of topics covered in the original curriculum, but shortened the curriculum by using fewer role-play exercises and having less repetition of material. In addition, health educators tailored the content to local circumstances.
- The two local health departments that participated in the study successfully delivered the curriculum to hundreds of youth in their service regions during the study period. These results suggest that delivering an abstinence and contraceptive education curriculum in rural high schools is feasible and can fill a pressing need.

Wise Guys: Implementing a Boys-Only Teen Pregnancy Prevention Program in Davenport, Iowa – KEY FINDINGS

- By offering programming in male-only groups, Wise Guys aimed to create an environment in which boys feel comfortable talking about masculinity, gender roles, and sexual health. The curriculum aims to meet the specific needs of adolescent males, strengthen communication between boys and their parents, increase knowledge related to sexual attitudes and the consequences of risky behavior, and enhance boys' ability to identify personal values and beliefs related to sexuality.
- Participants received most of the program content that was offered. On average, the attendance rate at Wise Guys sessions was 77 percent. For most participating boys, absences from program sessions did not appear to reflect lack of motivation to attend, but, rather most often their absences were due to absence from school that day, having to take a test in the class that they would have missed, or attending a field trip or special event for another class. According to the facilitators, school staff, evaluation site visitors, program observations, and the participants themselves, boys seemed to like participating in Wise Guys.
- The facilitators delivered content that provided a substantial supplement to the sex education programming offered in health classes at the schools. They also covered topics designed to help boys become responsible men, such as values, decision making, and healthy relationships. The facilitators delivered Wise Guys in a safe, boys-only environment for discussing teen pregnancy prevention and adulthood preparation topics.

Pregnancy Prevention Programs

Attached are the notices OPRE sent out today about these reports. These go out prior to the reports being made available on OPRE's web site. There is not an ASPA review unless we are doing a press release to accompany the report. For your background, here is ACF's current evaluation policy which provides the OPRE Director authority to approve, release, and disseminate evaluation reports (https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2014/08/29/2014-20616/evaluation-policy-cooperative-research-or-demonstration-projects).

I will ask OPRE to send these two through policy team review prior to publication.

Moving forward, is your preference to get a notice before OPRE sends out this notice to interest parties (which they can add you and others to) and then you identify which reports you would like to review further? There are normally 2-3 of these a week.

Amanda,

I heard that Naomi sent out an email notice today about some reports OPRE prepared – and that it will release this week – re FYSB Pregnancy Prevention programs.

Those types of items should come to the Policy Team's (i.e., my) attention before release, but I don't think they appeared in a week ahead report from Exec Sec.

Or will I see them through the ASPA clearance process before they are released?

At any rate, please notify OPRE that they shouldn't be released before Policy Team review.

Thanks, Maggie

LABRADOR: The Subcommittee on Immigration and Border Security will come to order. Without objection, the chair is authorized to declare a recesses of the committee at any time.

We welcome to everyone to today's hearing on Oversight of the United States Refugee Admission Program, and now I recognize myself for an opening statement.

I have long been a supporter of U.S. Refugee Admission Program and the important humanitarian mission that it serves. The United States and the peace and democracy under which we live should give hope to those around the world who face persecution by their government, that their home countries can at some point also be free of such tyranny.

As a former immigration lawyer I have seen the U.S. RAP at work firsthand. I have seen those who have been able to avail themselves of it, come to this country and thrive. But just like with many government programs that start out with the best of intention and over the years prove to need updates, the time has come to reform of the program.

A few problems that have come to light in recent years include fraud, unchecked executive authority and threats to our national security. The House Judiciary Committee has highlighted some of these deficiencies over the last few years. For instance, we all know that during testimony in 2015, the former FBI director made troubling statements about the inability of law enforcement officials to properly vet applicants for refugee status and former administration officials acknowledged in testimony to this committee that state and local consultation throughout the refugee resettlement process has not been as robust as needed in all cases.

In fact, I have been approached by colleagues regarding this issue. They're concerned that the views of the state and localities they represent were ignored by an administration that simply wanted to resettle as many refugees as possible without regard to prudence.

On the issue of fraud in the program, I am pleased that today we have the Government Accountability Office here to discuss two reports they issued this past spring. One of which highlights potential fraud in the process. These issues I have mentioned as well as others led me to introduce H.R. 2826, the Refugee Program Integrity Restoration Act of 2017.

Among other things, the bill sets the annual refugee ceiling at 50,000, taking this responsibility from the president and placing it where it should be -- with us in Congress. The bill also recognizes the states and localities should have a true say in whether or not their communities are able to resettle refugees and H.R. 2826 contains provisions aimed at helping to detect fraud in the program and thus to reduce national security concerns.

In that vein, I know that this past Tuesday marked the end of the 120-day travel suspension for refugees pursuant to Executive Order 13780, and I know that the relevant departments have instituted enhanced screening and vetting procedures for refugee applicants with regard to one, the application process, two, the interview and adjudication process and, three, the system checks conducted on applicants.

The previous administration always stated in response to any security related questions about the Refugee Program that certain refugees were the most vetted foreign nationals who enter the United States, but even if true, I never understood why the administration thought that simply because they were the most vetted that the vetting was sufficient.

It seems that within months of taking over, the new administration has identified several areas in which vetting could be improved. I appreciate the attention to security concerns and the steps they have taken. I look forward to the testimony of the witnesses here today and I yield back the balance of my time.

I now recognize our ranking member, Ms. Lofgren of California, for her opening statement.

LOFGREN: Like all members of Congress, my highest priority is protecting our national security and today's hearing presents an opportunity to examine a threat to that security, President Trump's anti-refugee agenda.

Mr. Trump has characterized immigrants generally and refugees in particular as bad actors bent on harming Americans. The conservative Cato Institute found that the odds of an American being killed in a terrorist attack by a refugee are one in 3.64 billion.

By comparison, the odds of being struck by lightning are one in one in 700,000. The truth is this, it's not refugees that undermine our national security, it's Mr. Trump's radical restrictions on their admission. Those include multiple refugee bans, a record low of refugee ceiling imposed at a time of record high global displacement, and a failure of American leadership in the world.

Let me identify two of the many ways in which these policies undermine our safety. First, by substantially lowering Muslim refugee admissions, these measures project anti-Muslim sentiment that further fuels ISIS recruitment. Ryan Crocker, a former ambassador to Iraq and Afghanistan, who served under Republican and Democratic administrations put it this way. Those who stand against refugee resettlement say they're protecting the nation. They're not. They're putting the nation at greater risk by reinforcing the Islamic state narrative.

In other words, Donald Trump's actions galvanize individuals bent on committing terrorist attacks against Americans.

Second, those policies damage partnerships with key allies in the fight against terrorism. Michael Chertoff, DHS Secretary under George W. Bush, specifically warned of the implications for our Iraqi allies. Some 60,000 of them await refugee resettlement in America. Many of their lives are at risk because of their assistance to the American military and state department, yet, the record low Fiscal Year 2018 refugee ceiling means that only a small portion of them will be resettled.

By turning his back on these allies, President Trump discourages them as well as other partners around the world from helping the United States in future anti-terror initiatives. This leaves all Americans more vulnerable to terrorist attacks. Such national security consequences are so significant that White House aide, Steven Miller appears to have deliberately marginalized key U.S. defense and national security agencies in order to push through the record low refugee cap. According to a report, Miller cut out the National Counterterrorism Center, FBI, Defense Department and Joint Chiefs of Staff -- our core national security stakeholders from discussions about reducing refugee resettlement.

The report even quotes a State Department official who stated that Mr. Miller, quote, "Suppressed evidence that was important to consider in determining a refugee number that would be beneficial to our national security interest." This gives the troubling appearance that the Trump administration prioritizes its anti-refugee agenda over the safety of the American people.

Of course, I, along with all of my Democratic colleagues, support rigorous refugee vetting measures. As I noted, we have no higher duty than protecting the American people, but let us hope that this administration will not use claims of national security or reviews of refugee vetting procedures as cover for implementing a back door Muslim ban. After all, numerous federal courts challenged the administration's claim that its previous bans squarely advanced national security objectives.

Refugees do more than just improve our national security; they are core to our American identity and values. That's why past presidents of both parties embraced them, and contrary to this administration's suggestions, numerous studies prove they enhance our economy. Health and human services itself produced one of those studies only for the administration to reportedly suppress it.

It showed that over a decade, refugees made a net positive economic contribution to the United States of some $63 billion. Another study found that refugees are significantly more likely than native born Americans to become entrepreneurs, and thereby create jobs for American workers.

In my own district, refugees have immeasurably enriched our community. I'm deeply troubled by the disconnect between the administration's rhetoric and reality, and I hope today's hearing will show greater regard for the truth. We owe it to the American people to illuminate how Mr. Trump's anti-refugee policies violate our values, damage our economy, make all of us less safe, I would also like to add when refugees and asylees enter our country, they have constitutional rights that must be respected.

I am sure we will explore that further in the course of this hearing, and I yield back the balance of my time.

LABRADOR: Thank you, Ms. Lofgren. I would now like to recognize the full committee chairman, Mr. Bob Goodlatte of Virginia for his opening statement.

GOODLATTE: Thank you, Mr. Chairman and I very much appreciate you holding this hearing today on this very important issue and with this outstanding panel of witnesses.

The United States has a generous Refugee Program has provided millions of people fleeing persecution with safe haven. In F.Y. 2016, we resettled 84,994 refugees. In the last fiscal year, we resettled 53,716 refugees and while we should continue that great tradition, it has become clear that our refugee laws and policies have been abused and that they need reform.

The Refugee Act of 1980 created our current refugee resettlement process in which the president sets the annual limit for the number of refugees the United States can resettle during the next fiscal year and the act set forth who could be considered admissible as a refugee and how and when those refugees could adjust to lawful permanent resident status.

In addition, the act put in place a process for the federal government to work through nongovernmental agencies to resettle refugees. Thirty seven years later, members of Congress and the American public are voicing a growing number of concerns about how many and the process through which refugees are admitted to the United States as well as what happens once they are admitted, but the federal government has done little to respect those concerns.

Under the previous administration, when a state or locality expressed security concerns about refugee resettlement, the administration simply repeated the sound-byte that refugees undergo the most rigorous background checks of any immigrant to the United States. That statement ignored the concerns of several security officials that if there is no information regarding a potential refugee in the databases that are checked, then no derogatory information will show up during the check and it ignored the fact that in many states from which refugees are admitted, failed states, there is no reliable information about refugees.

We know that over 300 individuals being actively investigated for terrorist-related activity by the FBI came to the United States as refugees and we know that at least two of the 10 successful terrorist attacks carried out on U.S. soil since September 11, 2001, were perpetrated by individuals who entered the United States as refugees.

In addition, to security concerns, if a state or locality expressed concerns about the cost of refugee resettlement or the lack of available employment opportunities, the prior administration did little in response. It was simply their view that,

"The federal government has the right to resettle refugees all across America." And while that may be true, it is not necessarily the best practice.

I know that many resettlement organizations do wonderful and necessary work, but essentially ignoring the pleas of communities across the U.S. and leaving refugee resettlement decisions to the administration, simply feeds opposition to refugee admissions on the whole. I know that the Trump administration has already addressed some of the concerns I have laid out today. For instance, I was happy to see that Executive Order 13780 signed on March 6, 2016, recognized the problem with lack of state and local consultation prior to resettlement and asked the Secretary of State to devise a plan to promote state and local involvement in resettlement decisions.

And of course, the same Executive Order required a review of refugee processing to determine what improvements could be made to the process and then to implement those improvements. So I look forward to hearing today how the Departments of Homeland Security, State and Health and Human Services are working together to improve the entire U.S. Refugee Admissions Program from referral to post resettlement so that the program can remain a valuable and viable part of U.S. immigration policy. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I yield back.

LABRADOR: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I would now like to recognize the full committee ranking member, Mr. Conyers of Michigan, for his opening statement.

CONYERS: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Top of the morning, witnesses, and everyone else here. Over the course of today's hearing on the United States Refugee Admissions Program, there are several factors that I want our witnesses and our members to consider. To begin with, it is incontrovertible that the United States, since its founding, has been a nation of immigrants and in recognition of that fact, and of the undeniable value that immigrants contribute to our collective well-being, it has provided safe harbor for the persecuted.

True to these values, past presidents, Republican and Democratic alike have championed robust refugee resettlement. For example, the annual refugee admission ceiling has averaged 94,000 since the Refugee Act of 1980 making America the world's resettlement leader.

And just one year ago, the cap was increased to 110,000 in response to the global humanitarian crisis fueled by wars and unstable political environments. Unfortunately, the current administration in swift fashion abandoned America's bipartisan leadership in this arena. Pursuant to Executive Orders, President Trump issued a series of refugee bans. He then set a Fiscal Year 2018 ceiling of 45,000 -- the lowest in modern history.

In terms of per capita refugee resettlement, that ranks the United States behind eight other nations. Under any circumstances, these actions would fly in the face of our country's values, but coming at a time when worldwide refugee levels have soared to the highest in history, this cap to me is simply unconscionable. And worst yet, the administration's purported justification for its actions are baseless. For instance, the administration argues that the Refugee Program poses a security threat.

Needless to say, Democrats stand committed to rigorous refugee vetting, but national security experts from both parties agree that it is the absence of robust resettlement that truly undermines America's safety. By slashing refugee admissions, President Trump damages to me key alliances in the ongoing fight against terrorism and strengthens ISIS recruitment.

The administration also claims that refugees fail to assimilate and that they drain public resources. Again, however, the facts are otherwise. According to reports and internal study by the Department of Health and Human Services suppressed by the administration shows that refugees contributed a net positive $63 billion to the United States over a 10-year period.

In other words, it is not refugees, but the president's restrictions of their admission that zaps the nation's coffers. In sum, president Trump's refugee policies don't just leave lots of refugees in limbo and danger, they don't just violate core American values, they weaken our national security, damage our economy and undermine our nation's core values.

All of this begs the question of what really fuels such policies. Tragically, the answer to that question appears to be to me a combination of nativism, fake facts and perhaps even a little bigotry, drawing from arguments made by anti-immigrant organizations designated by the Southern Poverty Law Center as hate groups with documented links to white nationalists.

The administration has even proposed a refugee assimilation test, which evokes such xenophobic measures as the eugenics movement fueled the 1924 Immigration Act which restricted immigration from Southern Europe and banned it out right from Asia. Like the 1924 Act, the present administration's refugee policies are equally inexcusable.

In closing, I urge our witnesses today to examine these policies unflinchingly and to assess how gravely they endanger our values, our economy and even our national security.

I look forward to your testimony and I thank the chairman and I yield back.

LABRADOR: Without objection, other members' opening statements will be made part of the record.

LOFGREN: Mr. Chairman, may I be granted to grant unanimous consent to place into the record statements from the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, the International Refugee Assistance Project, the Lutheran Immigration Refugee Service, the U.S. Catholic Conference of Bishops, Truth World Services, the Cato Institute, the Episcopal Church and a letter to acting Secretary Eric Hagan and Director Lloyd from and over 100 organizations including the California Women's Law Center, Catholics for Choice, the American Rabbis' Human Rights Campaign and others.

LABRADOR: Without objection, they'll be made part of the record. Today, we have a distinguished panel. The witnesses' written statements will be entered into the record in its entirety and I ask that you summarize your testimony in five minutes or less.

To help you stay within that time, there is a timing light on your table. When the light switches from green to yellow, you will have one minute to conclude your testimony. When the light turns red, it signals that your five minutes have expired.

Before I introduce our witnesses, I would like you to stand and be sworn in.

Do you swear that the testimony you're about to give is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?

Let the record reflect that the witnesses answered in the affirmative, thank you and please be seated.

Mr. Simon Henshaw has served as the Acting Assistant Secretary of the Bureau of Population, Refugees and Migration at the Department of State since July 15, 2017. Mr. Henshaw previously served as director of Indian Affairs in the State Department's Bureau of Western Affairs Deputy Chief of Mission at the U.S. Embassy in Honduras and several other capacities at the State Department.

Mr. Henshaw attended the National War College where he earned a masters of science in national security affairs and has a bachelor of arts in history from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

The Honorable L. Francis Cissna is the director of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. Previously, Mr. Cissna served as the director for Immigration Policy within the DHS Office of Policy and as the acting director and deputy director of immigration and border security policy in the DHS Office of Policy. Before serving at DHS headquarters, he worked in the USCIS Office of the chief counsel as an associate counsel in the Adjudications Law Division.

Mr. Cissna received his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center. He received a masters degree in International Affairs from Columbia University and bachelor's degree in both physics and political science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology -- physics and political science -- that is an interesting combination.

Mr. Scott Lloyd is the director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement. Mr. Lloyd previously worked as an attorney in the Public Policy Office at the Knights of Columbus. Before joining the Knights, he worked in private practice at the Department of Health and Human Services and on Capitol Hill. Mr. Lloyd received his undergraduate education at James Madison University and earned a J.D. at Catholic University of America Columbus School of Law.

Ms. Rebecca Gambler is a Director in the U.S. Government Accountability Office, Homeland Security and Justice team where she leads GAO's work on border security, immigration and elections issues. Ms. Gambler joined GAO in 2002. Prior to joining GAO, Ms. Gambler worked at the National Endowment for Democracy's International Forum for Democratic Studies. Ms. Gambler has an M.A. in National Security and Strategic Studies from the United States Naval War College and M.A. in International Relations from Syracuse University and an M.A. in political science from the University of Toronto.

I know recognize Mr. Henshaw for his statement.

HENSHAW: Thank you very much, Chairman Labrador and distinguished Members of Congress and thank you very much for holding this hearing on the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program which I will now have to refer to as USRAP.

I appreciate the opportunity to address your subcommittee with my colleagues from the Departments of Homeland Security, Health and Human Services and GAO. Together, the Department Of State, DHS and H.H.S. plan to bring up to 45,000 refugees to the United States through the USRAP in Fiscal Year 2018.

The security and welfare of the American people is this administration's top priority. We have instituted additional procedures in the USRAP interview and adjudication and systems checks processes to strengthen our vetting system. We will continue to find ways to make our screening procedures more effective in order to protect the American people.

For those eligible for protection as refugees, the USRAP is committed to deterring and detecting fraud among those seeking to resettle in the United States. We will continue rigorous security measures to protect against threats to our national security.

In F.Y. 2018, the United States expects to continue to permanently resettle more refugees than any other country and we will continue to offer protection to the most vulnerable of those who have been persecuted because of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group or political opinion.

Since 1975, the United States has welcomed more than 3.4 million refugees and the United States continues to operate the largest refugee resettlement program in the world. Through the USRAP and our generous assistance program for refugees and countries of first asylum, the United States demonstrates its commitment to protecting the most vulnerable of the world's refugees while keeping America safe from harm.

According to the United Nations' High Commission for Refugees, UNHCR, there are 65.6 million forcibly displaced people in the world today, 22.5 million of whom are refugees. The United States and UNHCR focus on three durable solutions to address the world refugee situation.

Voluntary repatriation, local integration and resettlement to a third country.

The United States and UNHCR recognize that most refugees desire safe voluntary return to their homeland and we share UNHCR's priority of helping facilitate the voluntary repatriation of refugees in safety and dignity.

In 2016, some 552,000 refugees voluntarily repatriated to their countries of origin. For those refugees who are unable to voluntarily return safely to their home countries, the United States supports efforts to help refugees to become self-sufficient and locally integrate into their countries of first asylum. The Department of State encourages host governments to protect refugees and to allow them to integrate into local communities.

We brought local integration by funding programs to enhance refugee self-reliance and support community-based social services. Our support has enabled numerous refugees from around the world to integrate into their host communities abroad even while awaiting eventual voluntary repatriation.

For refugees who are unable to return home safely or integrate locally, resettlement in third countries provides durable protection. The USRAP's security vetting process is managed by DHS and includes the participation of the Departments of State and Defense, the FBI and intelligence community including the National Counterterrorism Center.

DHS retains the authority to refuse refugees for admission. In response to Executive Order 13780, protecting the nation from forced terrorist entry into the United States, refugee admissions were suspended in FY 2017 for a 120-day period with the exception of certain cases.

During this period, the Departments of State and Homeland Security and the Office of the Director for National Intelligence, as well as additional intelligence and law enforcement agencies reviewed and enhanced the security's screening regime for refugees. The program is currently in the midst of an additional review of nationals of countries -- of certain countries with the potential for higher risk.

The USRAP is premised on the idea that upon resettlement in the United States, refugees should become economically self-sufficient as quickly as possible. The Department of State works domestically with agencies participating in the reception and placement program to ensure that refugees receive services during the first 90 days after arrival in accordance with established standards.

During and after the initial resettlement period, the Department of Health and Human Services Office of Refugee Settlement provides technical assistance and funding to states, the District of Columbia and nonprofit organizations to help refugees become self-sufficient and integrated in to U.S. society.

Thank you very much. I look forward to responding to your questions.

LABRADOR: Thank you very much. I now recognize Mr. Cissna for five minutes.

CISSNA: Thank you, Chairman Labrador. Chairman Goodlatte, Ranking Member Lofgren and Ranking Member Conyers, and good morning to the Members of the committee. My name is Francis Cissna and I am the Director of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services or USCIS.

I am glad to have this opportunity to discuss the role of USCIS in the nation's refugee admissions processes. I look forward to meeting each of you individually to discuss our views in immigration and how we can work together to improve our nation's immigration system.

Since this is my first opportunity to address any part of Congress in my new capacity as Director, I wanted to take a moment to quickly let you know some of my philosophy regarding the work that we do at USCIS.

Upon my arrival at USCIS, about two weeks ago, I made it clear to the leadership team that my vision of the agency's mission is one that focuses on three things -- efficiency, fairness and lawfulness.

Efficiency -- the sheer volume of the work that USCIS does makes it imperative that the efficiency be one of our key goals. Movement from antiquated paper-based processes to one that leverages the latest technology will allow us the process applications and petitions in an efficient and integrated way.

Fairness, transparency in our operations from individual case inquiries to massive data requests is essential to the question of fairness. USCIS, under my leadership, is committed to providing the most accurate and complete information to the public whether they are applicants, petitioners or the general public as possible. Doing so I believe will demonstrate our promise to adjudicate benefit applications and petitions fairly.

Finally, lawfulness. Everything we do must be done in accordance with the law. Too often, noble intentions have resulted in creation of policies and programs that circumvent or even directly contradict our nation's immigration laws.

Under my leadership, I will ensure that everything that we do -- policy and process -- is always in agreement with the law. You can be sure that these principles will be applied to every part of USCIS's operation including the topic of today's hearing refugee admissions.

USCIS is we are prepared to work closely with the Department of State and other interagency partners to support our Refugee Admissions Program of up to 45,000 arrivals in F.Y. 2018 while at the same time assiduously maintaining and improving the integrity of the program and our national security.

On March 6th of this year, President Trump issued Executive Order 13780 called Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorists' Entry into the United States. In that document, the president stated this, "It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from terrorist attacks including those committed by foreign nationals." While the Executive Order has been the subject of litigation and portions of it were enjoined for a time, USCIS has worked aggressively to strengthen the integrity of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program consistent with its legal obligations.

Pursuant to that Executive Order, USCIS and its partners engaged in a 120-day review process that ended just two days ago. I would like to share at this time some of the results of that review. As a result of the review, the federal government is implementing enhancements that have raised the bar for vetting and screening procedures including enhancing the collection of biometric information, better information sharing between state and DHS and new training procedures to strengthen screeners' ability to detect fraud and deception.

Recognizing that the suspension of the Refugee Admissions Program in Executive Order 13780 has served its purpose, the president issued a new Executive Order ending the suspension and directing State and DHS to resume refugee resettlement processing consistent with the improved vetting measures.

While DHS, state and the Directorate of National Intelligence have jointly determined that the screening and vetting enhancements to the Refugee Admissions Program are adequate to generally resume refugee admissions, they have also concluded that additional in-depth review is needed with respect to refugees from 11 countries that were previously identified as posing higher risk to the United States.

Consequently, admissions for applicants from those 11 high-risk countries will resume, but on a case by case basis during a 90-day review period. As DHS state and DNI complete individual country reviews, they may resume a standard admissions process for applicants from those countries.

These new measures are part of the administration's initiative to raise national security standards across the board. These enhancements will continue to be evaluated to determine efficacy for ensuring national security, the administration will continue to work closely with law enforcement and intelligence communities on these security enhancements and of course, we will work with you to ensure that operational and legislative efforts are well coordinated.

Finally, I wanted to just touch one subject and that is the asylum backlog that USCIS is facing right now. We are looking at 300,000 cases. Thank you.

LABRADOR: We'll let you touch on that during question and answer. Thank you very much.

Now, I recognize Mr. Lloyd for five minutes.

LLOYD: Chairman Labrador, Ranking Member Lofgren, Ranking Member Conyers and Members of the subcommittee thank you for inviting me to discuss the Department of Health and Human Services' responsibilities to help refugees resettle in the United States.

My name is Scott Lloyd and I am the Director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement. I oversee ORR's programs which provide refugees, asylees, victims of trafficking and other populations with support and services to assist them to become integrated members of American society.

In my testimony today, I will describe the role that H.H.S. plays in refugee resettlement and upcoming initiatives that the office plans to pursue. In addition to refugees, asylees, Cuban and Haitian entrants, special immigrant visa holders and victims of human trafficking are eligible for O.R.R. services.

ORR's mission is to link these populations to resources to help them become successfully assimilated members of American society. In Fiscal Year 2016, the United States resettled refugees from 89 countries. In total, over 212,000 individuals were eligible for resettlement services through O.R.R. programs.

ORR carries out its mission to serve refugees through grants and related services administered by state governments and nonprofits organizations including faith-based groups and an extensive public- private partnership network. Through these grants, ORR provides time limited cash and medical assistance to newly arrived refugees as well as case management services, English language classes and employment services -- all designed to facilitate refugees' successful transition and assimilation into the life in the United States.

To ensure a successful transition for refugees, ORR funds cash and medical assistance for individuals who are determined not eligible for SSI, TANF and Medicaid. The program is administered by states and by voluntary organizations under the Wilson/Fish Programs. ORR provides this assistance to eligible populations for up to eight months after their arrival in the United States.

A portion of new entrants participating in the Voluntary Agency Matching Grant Program rather than the Refugee Cash Assistance Program. Through the Matching Grant Program, ORR funds U.S. resettlement agencies to help refugees become employed and self- sufficient within their first four months in the U.S. by providing services such as case management, job skill development, job placement and follow up and interim housing and cash assistance.

Participating refugees may now access other public cash assistance if they choose to participate in the Matching Grant Program. This employment focused case management model has proven to be effective in helping refugees achieve economic self-sufficiency.

In fiscal year 2016, the Matching Grant Program served almost 35,000 refugees, asylees, entrants and special immigrant visa holders and reported economic self-sufficiency rates of approximately 84 percent for refugees at 180 days after arrival.

ORR also provides funds to state governments and private nonprofit agencies to support social services including English language courses, employment services and social adjustment services. ORR allocates these funds based on a formula tied to the prior year of arrival data that accounts for refugees and other entrants' movements to other states after their initial resettlement.

ORR provides targeted assistance grants to states with qualifying counties that have high numbers of refugee arrivals. Services provided by this program are generally designed to help refugees secure employment within one year or less of their arrival.

ORR programs also support economic development activities. These programs focus on financial literacy, establishing credit and match savings in support of housing purchases, educational goals and hundreds of business startups that in turn employ thousands.

ORR is committed to achieving a culture of excellence throughout its programs. To do this, the program is redoubling its efforts to obtain dependable data on program outcomes and to incorporate evidence based decision making.

Over the past year, ORR has engaged in an initiative to improve data and research on how refugees are integrating into the United States. ORR has awarded two research contracts. The first contract will oversee the annual survey of refugees for the next two years. We have worked to improve the sampling design and methodology to ensure that ORR has nationally representative data on refugees' first five years in the United States.

The second research contract will assess ways to improve the survey as an indicator of refugees' successes and challenges. In addition, ORR is particularly interested in enhancing data collection from our state and local service providers to better assess refugees' success and assimilation in communities post arrival. ORR is working on a number of related data collection initiatives to strengthen program performance reporting and outcomes.

I welcome this committee's interest in HHS's Refugee Resettlement Programs. Thank you for the opportunity to discuss the work we perform and I'd be happy to answer any questions.

LABRADOR: Thank you, Mr. Lloyd. I now recognize Ms. Gambler for five minutes.

GAMBLER: Good morning, Chairman Labrador, Ranking Member Lofgren, Ranking Member Conyers and Members of the subcommittee. I appreciate the opportunity to testify at today's hearing to discuss GAO's work on the process by which refugees seek to be resettled in the United States.

The United States admitted nearly 85,000 refugees in Fiscal Year 2016 and over 50,000 in Fiscal Year 2017. In recent years, questions have been raised regarding the adequacy of the process for screening refugees seeking resettlement and the extent to which the process may be vulnerable to fraud.

In two GAO reports issued earlier this year, we examined U.S. government efforts to oversee and implement the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program as well as efforts to identify and address potential fraud in the program.

My oral remarks summarize GAO's key findings and recommendations in three areas. One, policies and procedures for case processing; two, policies and procedures for adjudicating refugee applications and three; efforts to assess and address fraud risks.

First, state through its nine support centers oversees has policies and procedures for processing refugee referrals and applications to the United States. For example, state's procedures include requirements for these centers to conduct prescreening interviews of applicants to obtain information on their persecution stories among other things.

State also has various mechanisms to oversee the activities of these refugee support centers. However, state does not have outcome based performance indicators to assess the center's performance such as ensuring the quality of the centers pre-screening activities. We recommended that state develop such indicators and state concurred.

Second, within the Department of Homeland Security, USCIS has policies and procedures to adjudicate refugee applications. For those adjudications that we were able to observe during our audit work, we found that USCIS staff generally implemented these procedures.

We also found that USCIS provided training to all officers to adjudicate refugee applications abroad. However, USCIS could improve its training. Specifically, we found that officers who adjudicated applications on a temporary basis did not receive the same amount or type of training as full-time refugee officers. We recommended that USCIS provide additional training for temporary officers and USCIS has since done so.

Further, with regard to quality assurance, USCIS has not regularly assessed the quality of refugee adjudications to help ensure that files are complete and that decisions on applications are well documented and legally sufficient. Thus, we recommended that USCIS conduct regular quality assurance assessments of refugee adjudications.

Finally, state and USCIS have procedures to mitigate fraud risks in the Refugee Admissions Program, but could improve their efforts. While infrequent, instances of staff fraud have occurred such as processing center staff soliciting bribes from applicants in exchange for promises of expedited processing. In response, these centers have design control activities to address staff fraud, however state has not required that all centers conduct staff fraud risk assessments.

Further, regarding applicant fraud, in the past, state has suspended Refugee Resettlement Programs because of fraud. State and USCIS have implemented mechanisms to help prevent applicant fraud, however, they have not jointly assessed applicant fraud risks program- wide.

Absent such joint assessments, state and USCIS do not have comprehensive information on risks that may affect the integrity of the process. We recommended that state regularly review processing center staff fraud risk assessments and use them to examine the suitability of existing fraud controls. We also recommended that state and USCIS conduct regular joint fraud risk assessments of the program.

State and USCIS concurred with these recommendations.

In closing, given the potential consequences that the outcomes of decisions on refugee applications can have on the safety and security of both vulnerable refugee populations and the United States, it is important that the U.S. Government have an effective refugee process to allow for resettlement of approved applicants while preventing those with malicious intent from using the program to gain entry to the country.

This completes my prepared statement and I'd be happy to answer any questions from members.

LABRADOR: Thank you very much. We will proceed with the five- minute rule with questions. I will begin by recognizing myself for five minutes.

Mr. Henshaw, as you know last year, the U.S. entered into an agreement with Australia to accept over a thousand refugees that Australia has refused to resettle. Many of whom are from countries of national security concern. When this committee inquired about the agreement, we were told that it was classified. Press reports have indicated that the deal was a little more than Australia agreeing to resettle a small number of individuals from the northern triangle countries Don't you agree that the American people have a right to know the details of that agreement?

HENSHAW: Sir, it is our intention to make public as much as the agreement as we can. The report that you initially referred to was classified and remains classified. We have been unable to declassify it, but nevertheless, we will continue to...

LABRADOR: Why is that?

HENSHAW: Sir, the original report was classified by the Australians and we have an agreement with the Australians that if they classify a report, it's classified under our system.

LABRADOR: So will you commit to supporting the declassification of the agreement? Can you find a way to declassify -- we are talking about an agreement that affects the lives of American people, not -- it's not the Australian people. So how do we let our people know what is in that agreement and what we're doing?

HENSHAW: I will continue to work towards declassifying the report, sir. I believe that most of the information in the report is already in the public domain.

LABRADOR: Yes, but we need to know from the government and not what has been leaked to the press, but I want testimony on what exactly we agreed to with the Australians. Will you commit to doing that?

HENSHAW: I will commit to continuing to work to declassify the information, sir.

LABRADOR: Can you please explain the role of the RFC's and the Refugee Program?

HENSHAW: Yes, sir. We use RFC's to enter the original data on refugees who we are considering for resettlement into the United States. We do some early interviewing to collect data -- biographical data and information from them so that it can be later used by DHS and so that we can enter that into our security systems so that security reviews can be carried out.

LABRADOR: What types of fraud have occurred at the RFC level?

HENSHAW: I'm not prepared to give full details. I just don't have it with me on fraud, but...

LABRADOR: Didn't you know you were coming to testify about this program?

HENSHAW: Yes, I did know, sir. Yes.

LABRADOR: So why are you not prepared?

HENSHAW: I could give you some examples, if you would like, sir. We have had a couple of cases where people have -- we have had a couple of cases where people have attempted to portray their information incorrectly to R.F.C. members, but in all cases that I'm aware of...

LABRADOR: I would like to see a report on what kinds of frauds. I thought that was the purpose of this hearing and I'm a little bit dumbfounded that we don't have that information, so I would like to know -- that's what we're trying to figure out what is happening with this program and I would like that information.

Mr. Cissna, can you explain why the decision was made to concentrate on asylum cases as opposed to refugee cases this fiscal year?

CISSNA: Well, as I started to say earlier, but then ran out of time...

LABRADOR: Yes.

CISSNA: We -- USCIS is facing a backlog of about 300,000 asylum cases and the way we look at it, the asylum work that we do is complimentary to the refugee work. These are all vulnerable populations, these are people seeking relief under the same standard and the backlog is untenable.

We can't have that backlog persist because people are going years potentially waiting for a court date to have their benefits adjudicated. So we want to divert resources from refugee processing to the asylum backlog to reduce that backlog.

LABRADOR: You're just trying to help with the backlog of asylum?

CISSNA: Yes.

LABRADOR: It's not something nefarious that you're trying to hurt people, you're actually trying to help people.

CISSNA: No, we want to help them and...

LABRADOR: All right, thank you. The previous administration consistently told us that refugees underwent the most rigorous vetting of any other immigrant, but your testimony notes that several ways to enhance the process for screening and vetting refugees have now been identified. Apparently, that's been news to the previous administration. Can you explain what some of those holes in the process were and what changes have been made? And do it quickly.

CISSNA: Yes, I wouldn't call them holes necessarily, I would say that the processes that we have long had in place could have been improved and will be improved and some of the things we are doing, we're enhancing and increasing the types of information we're collecting from people. We're checking -- we're improving our interview processes and the guidance to the people in the field to conduct the interviews to root out fraud and determine credibility and finally, the types of checks we are doing on people are also being expanded and enhanced to ensure sure we get the most possible value from those types of investigations.

LABRADOR: Thank you very much. I now recognize the gentlelady from California, the Ranking Member of this subcommittee.

LOFGREN: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I can't help but note that yesterday, we marked up a bill that would allow hundreds of thousands, maybe even millions of workers paid sub-minimum wage to come into the U.S. with no vetting whatsoever. So if I were a potential terrorist, I think, I might look at that route instead of the extensive route that you're describing.

But moving right...

LABRADOR: Thanks for letting them know how to do it.

LOFGREN: Moving right along, I would like to ask you, Mr. Lloyd, about policies relative to the rights of asylees in your custody. I know that we are all aware that a so-called Jane Doe, a 17-year-old immigrant woman in ORR custody was blocked from accessing an abortion and forced to continue a pregnancy against her will. She is a minor, but a court had decided that she had the maturity to make the decision on her own and yet, she continued to be blocked from this constitutionally protected health care.

She wasn't asking the government to pay for her care or to transport her to a doctor just to get out of the facility so that she could access a constitutional right that she had to terminate her pregnancy, obviously as a 17-year-old she could not legally consent to the -- I don't know whether she was violently raped or it was a product of statutory rape.

She was finally released because the court did intervene. So I would like to ask you about your general belief about the rights of women and girls that who are in ORR's custody. Do you believe that women and girls in your custody have Constitutional Rights like other people who are in America or do you think that constitutional rights, for example, to due process and privacy depend on immigration status?

LLOYD: I think anybody and you're referring to the Unaccompanied Alien Children Program where we provide shelters in a number of locations throughout the country, but I think anybody who comes into the United States comes with a potential to become a full U.S. citizen with full rights to all the freedoms we enjoy, including the freedom to move freely and the bear arms and to vote and others, but that's always subject to a process whether it's -- if they come through as a UAC or if they come through some other means, it's a process whereas the person who moves through the process and they gain additional rights.

LOFGREN: Let me interrupt because the Due Process Clause applies to everybody who's here, I believe, I mean, that's what I learned in law school. That's what the case law seems to say. Do you agree with that or not?

LLOYD: The Due Process Clause does, yes.

LOFGREN: Okay, let me ask you in terms of moving forward prospectively, the Washington Post reports -- and we don't know if this is true or not, which is why I'm asking you -- that suggested that you have personally intervened to try and persuade minors not to have abortions.

I would like to know, did you have direct contact with the young woman in this case that was in the paper? Do you have direct contact with other pregnant girls in the care of ORR? And do you have any medical training?

LLOYD: Well, forgive me but you know, some of the answers to the questions that you're asking are -- my ability to answer them fully are really limited by a number of factors including the court orders and also our duty to protect the individual...

LOFGREN: I'm not asking for a name. Have you ever contacted any anonymous young girl in your care trying to talk her out of having an abortion?

LLOYD: As the director, I run UAC Program, the Repatriation Program and Refugee Resettlement Program and I am out in the field in many of our locations and I meet with you know, dozens and even perhaps hundreds of people who we serve, the populations we serve and so among them, I'm certain that some of them were pregnant at the time.

LOFGREN: I'm disturbed that you won't answer the question and my time has expired, Mr. Chairman.

LABRADOR: Thank you. The chair will now recognize the gentleman from lowa for five minutes.

KING: Thank you, Mr. Chairman and I thank the witnesses for your testimony. I was just listening to the gentlelady from California's dialogue here and I'd say first that what has been created by that decision of the unelected judge is an unconditional right to an abortion to a minor who can sneak into the United States and is still subject to the adjudication of deportation.

She had a full right, a full ability I should say rather than a right to go back to her home country willingly and subject herself to the laws of her home country and so I think this is a terrible precedent that's been set by this judge and I hope that this full Judiciary Committee one day soon addresses the rogue judges that we have in this country and this includes Judge Watson out in Hawaii and the judge in Washington that seemed to be venue shopping people that decide they that they are going to challenge the statutes of the United States, duly passed by the United States Congress and signed into law by the president of the United States and for them to turn that completely upside down.

And so, I would like to turn first to Mr. Cissna with regard to that and there has been discussion about the Executive Orders and I'd expand it to the challenges to the Executive Orders that have taken place in the courts and I read the statute and I don't have them in front of me, but it's very clear.

Congress has granted the president the authority to determine who comes and goes from the United States of America with the security interests of America in mind and it doesn't say that a judge anywhere can look over his shoulder and determine that his judgment is flawed and their judgment is superior. And so, I'd ask you if you have any opinions upon that statute after I have expressed mine, Mr. Cissna.

CISSNA: Well, with respect to the refugee statute, Section 2017 of the Immigration Act, it's pretty clear that the authority to let refugees in is totally discretionary. So the authorities that we are now using to restart the program after the suspension was lifted comply with that and the types of checks we are doing -- all those things that we are doing that we have talked about earlier are in full compliance with that, I believe.

KING: And you discussed enhanced biometric collection, could you expand on that a little bit for us, please?

CISSNA: I think, in answer to that question as with many other questions along those lines, I probably wouldn't be able to get into a big detail because of law enforcement sensitivities, but I can say that the types of -- the classes of people from whom biometrics will be taken, it is intended shall be expanded in certain cases, so more people -- we will get biometrics from more people and the types of databases against which they are checked will also be expanded.

KING: So what are talking? Fingerprints?

CISSNA: Primarily, yes.

KING: Are doing digital photographs? Facial recognition?

CISSNA: Yes, we have always done that. We have always taken photographs, yes.

KING: But that would be pretty much the sum total of the biometrics we are discussing when we referred to it a moment ago?

CISSNA: I think in general, for now, yes, but that doesn't preclude other biometrics.

KING: DNA, I hope one day. It's cheap to get and cheap to keep. So that's my recommendation, Mr. Cissna. Thank you.

I would like to turn to Ms. Gambler, in your report, some questions came to mind to me and you in the High Commission on Refugees in cooperation with them, that's referenced in your report, can you tell me does the U.N. High Commission on Refugees, do they do background checks on any of the lists that they maintain and pass over to us for potential refugees?

GAMBLER: We can follow up and see what specific information we have on that, Congressman King and get back to you. I do know they are under the framework of cooperation that exists between the Department of State and UNHCR. I know that there are kind of some feedback loops back and forth on that. We would be happy to follow up and get any additional information.

KING: And I'd appreciate if you could do that, but it would be my understanding would be that at this point, you are not aware of what background checks might be done if any by UNHCR.?

GAMBLER: Yes, we'll follow up with you on that. The other thing I would say that was that the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program is designed to be a multi-step process and so, once referrals are made from UNHCR. to the Department of State, that's when the federal government adjudication and security check process begins.

KING: But as far as I know, and I am only going to say this, as far as I know, the information that's referred to us from the UNHCR. doesn't really have a background check, it's simply a file that gets passed on to us and it takes time for them to move through the final, maybe as long as two years.

So in the background checks that we do have that we are relying upon for this uber vetting process that the president has described, if there's no legal existence of that individual in their home country or none that can be uncovered by the record, then if it comes up empty, we are just stamping them U.S.A. approved and moving them into the country, would that be a fair representation?

GAMBLER: As we noted in our report, Congressman King, government officials have stated that the security checks are reliant on the information that the U.S. government has.

KING: And if there's none available, then we're relying upon empty -- Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent for one more short question, please?

LABRADOR: Without objection.

KING: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I think I have forgotten the question, but it was that -- with the vetting process that we have and the lack of biometrics that we have, you know, I'm just going to suspend that because I don't think it's well enough thought out and I'd yield back, but thank you for your attention though.

LABRADOR: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I yield the time to the ranking member of the subcommittee -- of the committee -- entire committee.

CONYERS: Thank you, Mr. Chairman and I appreciate the discussion that has been generated. Let me start off by observing that since the Trump administration has come into being, briefing requests submitted by Democratic members' staff have been repeatedly ignored or delayed. Do each of you promise to respect and satisfy the briefing and other requests staffs make from both the Republican and Democratic members alike, Mr. Cissna? You okay with that?

CISSNA: I'm okay with providing any technical assistance or briefings you want from my agency.

CONYERS: Okay, thank you. Mr. Lloyd, you okay with that?

LLOYD: Yes, certainly.

CONYERS: Thank you. Mr. Henshaw?

HENSHAW: Yes, sir.

CONYERS: Okay, fine. I wanted to observe is that my district has benefited greatly from the economic contributions of the refugee community. Refugees from around the world live and reside and own businesses in the Detroit area that I represent and I welcome these hardworking refugees and think that my opinion and think that my community is better as a result and economists have also found that refugees have higher entrepreneurship, make significant contributions to the economy and on average, pay more than $21,000.00 in taxes than they receive in benefit and I have got a couple of studies that back it up. I'd like consent to include them in the record, Mr. Chairman.

The new American economy struggles to resilience as well as the economic and social outcome of refugees in the United States, and I ask unanimous consent to enter them into the record.

LABRADOR: Without objection, it will be entered into the record.

CONYERS: Thank you very much. Is there general agreement among all of our witnesses that there have been a great benefit of these refugees that make communities like mine better as a result? Is there general agreement with that from all of you here this morning?

CISSNA: I don't disagree that many refugees do make enormous contributions to our country, yes.

CONYERS: Sure.

HENSHAW: Yes, sir. Absolutely.

GAMBLER: Yes.

CONYERS: All right. Now, let me get to the question or observation raised by Mr. Lloyd. How do you think refugees are doing on the question of assimilating? Do you believe refugees are currently assimilating or not assimilating?

LLOYD: In any question like that, I think it's a case-by-case basis, but that's one of the goals in our program. Once they've arrived in the U.S., as we administer -- especially job placement and English language courses that's what's going to...

(CROSSTALK)

CONYERS: I know it's going to be on a case-by-case basis, but I mean in general, do you think that currently, assimilation is coming along okay or not?

LLOYD: Generally from what I have been able to see, I think so, yes.

CONYERS: Any other views that anyone wants to recommend on this question that I have asked? Is assimilation a problem or is it working okay? Can I get the response?

LABRADOR: You can respond?

CISSNA: At USCIS, we do look at assimilation issues with respect to our citizenship and grants programs and with regard to refugees, that's something that I think we want to look at more carefully in this fiscal year, so we want to look at it as well.

CONYERS: Anybody else want to chime in on this? My time has expired, but you can answer the question.

HENSHAW: I would just add, sir that we concentrate on self- sufficiency and we have good results and many refugees becoming self- sufficient and contributing to society in America.

CONYERS: Good.

LOFGREN: Mr. Chairman.

LABRADOR: Thank you, the gentleman's time has expired.

LOFGREN: May I ask for unanimous consent to put in the record a letter from 24 national and stated based religious groups opposing the ORR obstructive policy on abortion.

LABRADOR: Without objection. And I know recognize the gentleman from Louisiana for five minutes.

JOHNSON: Thank you, Mr. Chairman and thank you all for being here. Director Cissna, prior to now, what information was not being shared between state and DHS that's now going to be shared to enhance the safety of the Refugee Program?

CISSNA: I think that would squarely fall within the universe of kind of law enforcement sensitivities that I don't feel comfortable discussing in an open forum.

JOHNSON: Fair enough. Can you explain to the committee how the Department of Homeland Security has modified its training of DHS refugee officers to account for serious and potential threats of bad actors who try to abuse the Refugee Program?

CISSNA: So historically, the training of refugee officers has always been very robust. They had weeks and weeks and weeks of training that all adjudicators have, but then they have an additional five or six weeks on top of that and then they have specific country and country-specific training that focuses on the types of fraud and other country conditions.

But in the wake of the working group that implemented the Executive Order, we are going to further increase and improve training so that the officers are able to even better assess credibility, which is the key element in interviewing the people and determining whether the person is inadmissible under the law.

So sometimes they have criminal offenses or other things that make them inadmissible and we are trying to train our adjudicators to make even better assessments of that.

JOHNSON: Speaking of the credibility determination, do you think now would be a good time for us to review our asylum standards? Meaning that -- would it be wise for Congress to tighten the standards for credible fear determination for example to ensure our system is not abused and especially in light of this backlog of 300,000 cases?

CISSNA: I do. I think that -- and this is actually one of the immigration priorities that the administration advanced a week or two or so ago. One of the many things that we proffered was that the Congress examine that exact issue.

I think that the question would be whether the credible fear standard is actually -- is clear enough to be implemented properly and I don't think it is, I think it could be clarified so that those assessments are made better and the people who don't actually meet that standard get weeded out.

JOHNSON: I'm glad to hear you say that. We have been working on some legislation to help with that. Ms. Gambler, can you speak to the fraud that has occurred at the resettlement sport centers, I think, Mr. Henshaw didn't quite answer it completely. What's your thought on that?

GAMBLER: Yes, as part of our audit work, we did identify that while infrequent, there were some cases of fraud that occurred at the R.F.C.'s so we gave some examples in our report and in one case, R.F.C. staff were soliciting bribes on the promise of being able to help expedite applications.

There was another case in which interpreters were seeking bribes as well, to I think state's credit and the R.F.C.'s credit in response to those instances of fraud, they did take action to respond and strengthen their processes going forward, but there have been some cases of fraud identified as it relates to R.F.C.s.

JOHNSON: Thank you for that. Mr. Henshaw, back to you. As you know, the U.S. consistently admits per year vastly more UNHCR. referred third country resettlement -- resettled refugees in any of the countries in the world and you'd mentioned that, what diplomatic pressure or other incentivizing measures are being used to push these other countries to admit more of those refugees?

HENSHAW: Yes, sir, we participate in worldwide meetings of resettlement countries and push other countries to take additional refugees. We use that in diplomatic meetings and humanitarian meetings and other meetings around the world to urge other countries. We have also pushed countries that haven't been in the resettlement business before to get in that business and one of the alternatives that we have pushed for countries that aren't regular resettlement countries is to look for alternative methods for people to enter their countries on different kinds of working visas or such.

JOHNSON: Well, as you also know, refugees are provided loans to cover the cost of travel to the U.S. and funding for the loans is provided by your agency, so I'm curious to know about the loan repayment rate and if you have steps that are being to ensure prompt repayment of those loans.

HENSHAW: Repayment rate is very high. It differs among populations, but it's generally well over 75 percent and with many populations, significantly over that and we continue to look for ways to improve payment of those loans -- repayment of those loans.

JOHNSON: I've got 15 seconds, but what are the repercussions to a refugee who doesn't pay back the loan? What about that 25 percent?

HENSHAW: I believe it affects their credit rating, but I would have to get back to you on other details on how it affects them.

JOHNSON: Would you get that information?

HENSHAW: I can do that.

JOHNSON: Thank you. I yield back.

LABRADOR: Thank you and I yield to the gentlelady from Washington.

JAYAPAL: Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Let me pick up on the questions of our Ranking Member of the subcommittee, Ms. Lofgren. Mr. Lloyd, do you believe that a woman's constitutional right to an abortion depends on her immigration status?

LLOYD: I think that any entry into the United States...

JAYAPAL: It's a yes or no question, Mr. Lloyd, do you believe that a woman's constitutional right to abortion depends on her immigration status, yes or no?

LLOYD: A number of rights...

JAYAPAL: That is not a yes or no answer, Mr. Lloyd.

LLOYD: My answer is that any number of rights depend on where they stand in terms of our immigration system.

JAYAPAL: I do not understand that answer. Is that a yes or a no? I'll take that as a no. So do you believe that immigrants have constitutional rights?

LLOYD: Once again, ma'am, if somebody wants to come into the United States and...

JAYAPAL: I'll take that as a no. Mr. Lloyd, do you have medical training of any kind?

LLOYD: If I need advice regarding any medical situation, regarding any population that I serve, I consult the medical...

JAYAPAL: So the answer is no, you don't have any medical training of any kind. Are you trained to provide counseling services to young people, Mr. Lloyd?

LLOYD: Again, if counseling services are called for, then I rely on the team of counseling professionals to advise me in my role.

JAYAPAL: So Mr. Lloyd, what expertise makes you qualified in this Jane Doe case to override the determination of a Texas state's court that Jane Doe is mature and competent enough to make her own decision?

LLOYD: I'm not going to comment on any individual case, but in case that comes across my desk, we're going to look at the totality of circumstances that may affect their case and that may include legal -- it may include policy considerations, medical, social welfare considerations and we have a team of experts and staff who are well equipped to advise me on any of those -- any number of those things.

And in terms of how -- what outcomes we're going to come to or what decisions we're going to make, it's going to come from a totality of that advice and the facts on the ground.

JAYAPAL: And Mr. Lloyd, is anybody able to review or override your decision? Or are you the ultimate decision maker with regards to a woman's ability to exercise her constitutional right to abortion?

LLOYD: The Office of Refugee Resettlement is situated within the Department of Health and Human Services Administration for Children and Families, and so I answer to the Assistant Secretary for Children and Families and to the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

JAYAPAL: Mr. Lloyd, is it your intent to block unaccompanied minors from accessing abortion care or will you instruct providers to deny minors other types of reproductive health care, like contraception or information on contraceptive methods? How far is your jurisdiction over this issue going to extend?

LLOYD: Again, any time or any circumstances is going to depend on the totality of facts that any individual case brings before us. And so, it's always going to be a case by case determination.

JAYAPAL: It's extremely troubling to me, Mr. Lloyd what's happening. I think you're far overreaching over your expertise or your jurisdiction. Mr. Henshaw, from the beginning America has been a refugee for the persecuted and in keeping with our past, with our values, past Republican and Democratic presidents alike have championed refugees and regarded the Refugee Program as core to the nation's identity and in fact, 20 national security leaders, including Henry Kissinger, Michael Chertoff, Madeline Albright, wrote in a 2015 letter, and I'm quoting that, "Resettlement initiatives help advance U.S. national security interests by supporting the stability of our allies and partners that are struggling to host large numbers of refugees."

And yet this administration has repeatedly and contrary to evidence characterized refugees as fraud, security threats and resource strains. To what extent and why do you think that this administration's view of refugees is so dramatically different from the long standing bipartisan tradition and fundamental American values?

HENSHAW: Security is our utmost concern with any Refugee Program and we have over the years, often re-evaluated our program to make sure that the best security standards are met and that's what we're doing now.

I believe that the current plan to bring in up to 45,000 refugees this year is well within our past history of refugee numbers and signifies that we are still the leader in refugee resettlement in the United States, in the world, sorry.

JAYAPAL: Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent for one more short question?

LABRADOR: Without objection.

JAYAPAL: Thank you so much. Mr. Henshaw, the White House has recently released a statement of immigration principles, cited a misleading study claiming to show that the United States can resettle 12 refugees in safe zones near their home countries for the cost of resettling one refugee domestically. Are you aware of who performed that study?

HENSHAW: No, I'm not. I would just simply say it is always our number one option to resettle people back -- voluntarily back in the country from which they fled.

JAYAPAL: Let me just say and I'll yield back time in that the source was the Center for Immigration Studies -- an organization that the Southern Poverty Law Center has designated as a hate group and found that it disseminated white nationalist content on over 2,000 occasions.

Deeply disturbed that the administration would be using that as a source of anything in an official report. I yield back, Mr. Chairman. I thank you for the additional time.

LABRADOR: The chair will yield time to the gentlelady from Texas.

JACKSON LEE: I thank the gentleman and I really do, as I look, these are public servants and I thank you for your service. I would argue that the service that each of your agencies are supposed to give really falls in the category of mercy and sympathy and empathy for conditions that refugees around the world are facing. I'm not sure whether that is possible, having the kind of statements that are coming from the administration and I frankly believe the American people should realize that when public servants appear before us, they are, unfortunately, the spokesperson of a cruel and ugly policy as evidenced by the administration.

So, having sat on the Immigration Subcommittee for many, many years, I can probably with great comfort say this is probably the worst time in American history as it relates to the rights of immigrants.

With that said, I'd like to begin my line of questioning on a general statement, Mr. Henshaw and Mr. Lloyd, how do you treat Muslim refugees? Mr. Henshaw?

HENSHAW: We don't treat refugees any differently any way based on their religion.

JACKSON LEE: And how is that possible when the administration has fought consistently for a Muslim ban?

HENSHAW: There is no Muslim ban. We are simply re-evaluating our security system country by country.

JACKSON LEE: There is a Muslim ban proposed by this administration, as evidenced by the stance that the Attorney General have been taking in the courts, though they've been defeated. So what you're saying to me is that you do not decipher and/or reject a Muslim refugee that may be in refugee camps in Jordan and on the border of Syria?

HENSHAW: Never, ever.

JACKSON LEE: All right, Mr. Lloyd?

LLOYD: Once they enter into our care, all determinations about placement have already been made. This is the Office of Refugee Resettlement where we administer benefits and so we treat Muslim refugees the same as we treat all other refugees.

JACKSON LEE: Will you submit to this committee your statements in dealing with refugees who have come -- I know the process. The American people don't know the process. That is, of course that refugees coming out of areas are in a camp, I think you work with the United Nations that is the process. It's a long period of vetting and then these individuals come to the United States by way of your choice of them out of those who are requiring or requesting the opportunity to come to the United States, is that not correct?

LLOYD: Well, the initial determination and selection is made with P.R.M. and in consultation with DHS

JACKSON LEE: Right, so provide me and this committee with that whole process and that includes those individuals that may be coming from the areas of the Muslim ban because they do exist, so I would appreciate if you would do so, otherwise the myth of taking in terrorists will continue to abound in this particular administration.

I would like to pursue also the line of questioning dealing with your treatment of refugees, having just visited the border and seeing some of the detention centers, although I appreciate the service again of the federal employees, it is not a pleasant sight. So in particular with Mr. Lloyd, with Ms. Jane Doe again, did you have direct contact with Ms. Jane Doe or those advocating on her behalf?

LLOYD: I cannot comment on individual cases.

JACKSON LEE: Would you -- I'm not sure why you would not indicate whether or not -- did you have contact with the lawyers? Did the agency have contact directly with the lawyers?

LLOYD: In any case where there are any lawyers involved, we would be in contact with the lawyers, so, yes.

JACKSON LEE: Do you have a set policy that you are pushing by way of the administration that opposes any young women who are falling under a particular statistic that says that 60 percent of those who are trying to flee oppression and persecution coming from the southern border are generally raped by those who are trafficking them or -- and therefore might be in need of medical help? Are you familiar with that statistic?

LLOYD: I'm not familiar with that specific statistic, but...

JACKSON LEE: Do you have any position on providing any sort of humane response to an individual that may have been raped and is pregnant and that falls upon the laws of the United States, which would allow an abortion?

LLOYD: We work in the best interests of all the U.A.C.s who come into our care and in the confines of our statutory requirements.

JACKSON LEE: So then they would be covered by the general laws about the ability to achieve an abortion based upon being raped?

LLOYD: That would fall under the TVPRA which we've implemented with interim relations.

JACKSON LEE: Is that a yes?

LLOYD: I'm sorry?

JACKSON LEE: That they would have that right because of the laws that allow women to secure an abortion, because they've been raped? Is that a yes?

LLOYD: With regard to the sexual assault...

JACKSON LEE: Mr. Chairman, I would like an additional minute for him to answer the question.

LABRADOR: I will object. You've gone over a minute already, so...

JACKSON LEE: Would you finish the question, sir?

LABRADOR: You can answer the question.

LLOYD: Okay, with regard to sexual assault, we follow the guidelines of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act and have implemented that into our policies.

JACKSON LEE: In Jane Doe's case, you did not, however.

LLOYD: I am not going to...

LABRADOR: The gentlelady's time has expired. I gave you an additional minute, so...

JACKSON LEE: I appreciate it, Mr. Chairman, but this is a serious issue. The treatment of refugees under this administration has diminished. It is frankly deteriorated and I want to apologize to those who are seeking refuge in this country under this administration. I yield back.

LABRADOR: It is a serious issue and that's why we're trying to reduce the number of illegal people coming into the United States because many of them do get raped trying to cross the border and that's what we're trying to stop.

JACKSON LEE: I appreciate it, Mr. Chairman. We should at least treat them with decency when they come. I yield back.

LABRADOR: This concludes today's hearing. Thanks to all of our witnesses for attending. Without objection, all members will have five legislative days to submit additional written questions for the witnesses or additional materials for the record. This hearing is adjourned.

FYI. State sent this report to ACF on 9/12 but it only came to me yesterday evening with a same-day turnaround time for clearance.

State's hard deadline was yesterday and it was prepared to send the report forward this morning without HHS clearance so I did a quick review and provided the caveat below. Scott spoke this morning with State and bought a little more time for this response.

Mary,

I have attached the report

Given that the report covers many issues and recommendations outside the scope of HHS's work or developed without HHS consultation, (b)(5) HHS is not in a position to clear portions of the report, such as the long section on Regional Programs, but we can clear the portions that represent HHS' work in refugee resettlement.

Cuban Entrants Remain Eligible for ORR Benefits and Services

On January 12, 2017, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) announced termination of the 'wet foot/dry foot' policy. Despite several changes to DHS policies affecting Cuban nationals, Cubans who meet the definition of Cuban Entrant and can provide the required documentation are still eligible for ORR benefits and services. To clarify this, ORR recently released Policy Letter 17-01 "Cuban Entrants" Remain Eligible for ORR Benefits and Services.

New Refugee Health Profile and Refugee Wellness Country Guide

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has announced that web and PDF versions of their most recent Refugee Health Profile are now available on their website. This Refugee Health Profile offers information on population movements, background, priority health conditions, medical screening information, and more. NPCT has released their most recent Refugee Wellness Country Guide. This guide provides a brief introduction to country-specific background on ongoing conflict, recommendations for health care providers, common phrases related to mental health symptoms, and traditional coping mechanisms.

Employment Rights and Resources for Refugees and Asylees

U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Civil Rights Division (CRD), Immigrant and Employee Rights Section (IER) has issued the Employment Rights and Resources for Refugees and Asylees document, which discusses several rights asylees and refugees have in the workplace and how to contact relevant federal agencies if rights violations are suspected. Additional related resources include SL 14-02: Employment Eligibility Requirements for Asylees, Refugees, and other Populations Served by ORR that was jointly released by ORR and IER's flyer Refugees and Asylees: What You Need to Know about the Form I-9.

American Red Cross Family Tracing Services

American Red Cross caseworkers in the U.S. work with their partners at the International Committee of the Red Cross and Red Crescent organizations in nearly every country worldwide to help families locate missing relatives. The Reconnecting Family Links flyer, brochure, and pictographs in English and Spanish provide information about these available services.

Trauma and Toxic Stress

The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) has translated several resources into Spanish that support pediatricians in preventing and mitigating the effects trauma and toxic stress have on children and families. The Helping Foster and Adoptive Families Cope With Trauma: A Guide for Pediatricians and the Trauma Tool Box for Primary Care are now available on AAP's website.

Dear Ms. Wynne,

I'm a reporter with The New Yorker Magazine, and I'd like get your comment on a story I'm doing, on deadline, about your role at HHS and claims made to me by a number of your former colleagues that you are responsible for the recent positions taken by O.R.R. in limiting the abortions of minors in its care.

There are a number of specific and credible claims that are made that I'd like to go through with you.

I'd prefer to talk by phone, if you can, but I'm happy to correspond over email, too, if it's easier. Below are the details I plan to include in my piece. I welcome any comments, clarifications, or corrections you may have.

Thanks for your time.

Best,

Jonathan Blitzer

cell)

- -You have worked at H.H.S. for more than a decade, under the Bush and Obama Administrations, in a range of different positions.
- -One of those positions was the director of its anti-trafficking program.
- -You once worked at the Knights of Columbus.
- -You helped lead the transition team at H.H.S. in the late fall of 2016.
- -You were close to Tom Price.
- -According to flight manifests, you were also some of the private chartered planes that Price took while head of HHS.
- -During the presidential transition, appointees from the previous administration—which included all of the heads of H.H.S. offices—weren't invited to meetings.

- -Only the career bureaucrats were invited, which many former members of the office described as unusual.
- -Former colleagues described you as strongly pro-life.
- -As the director of the trafficking program at O.R.R., you oversaw a team of social workers who assessed the eligibility of victims to get temporary health benefits while their legal cases were being adjudicated.
- -According to former colleagues, you often did not trust the stories of these individuals when they were represented by lawyers because you thought lawyers were coaching them on how to get the benefits.
- -According to former colleagues, any time an individual's story changed, you assumed she was lying.
- -According to former colleagues, you frequently looked for contradictions in the accounts of victims requesting benefits.
- -When your office rejected a victim's request, an appeal generally followed, which caused a large backlog of cases that O.R.R. leadership had to clear.
- -In 2011, the Obama Administration created new criteria for O.R.R. grants: if an aid organization refused to offer complete medical care to the minors in its custody at a shelter, it would receive a lower score on its grant application to obtain funds from O.R.R.
- -A confidential government document outlining the new grant criteria was shared with Republican Congressman Darrel Issa.
- -Several H.H.S. staffers claim that you were responsible for sharing that memo with Issa.
- -You left H.H.S. in 2016 when you were passed over for a promotion.
- -You rejoined the agency in January, 2017.
- -In the early months of the new year, staffers at O.R.R. reported to you.
- -In March, a memo circulated at O.R.R. with the subject line "custodial decisions to preserve the health of a pregnant UAC."
- -Subsequent emails circulating at ORR indicated that shelters "should not conduct procedures, or take any steps that facilitate future procedures such as scheduling appointments, transportation, or other arrangements."

-One former HHS official with knowledge of the office maintains that you were responsible for these policies before Scott Lloyd took over.

Dear Ms. Wynne,

I'm a reporter with The New Yorker Magazine, and I'd like get your comment on a story I'm doing, on deadline, about your role at HHS and claims made to me by a number of your former colleagues that you are responsible for the recent positions taken by O.R.R. in limiting the abortions of minors in its care.

There are a number of specific and credible claims that are made that I'd like to go through with you.

I'd prefer to talk by phone, if you can, but I'm happy to correspond over email, too, if it's easier. Below are the details I plan to include in my piece. I welcome any comments, clarifications, or corrections you may have.

Thanks for your time.

- -You have worked at H.H.S. for more than a decade, under the Bush and Obama Administrations, in a range of different positions.
- -One of those positions was the director of its anti-trafficking program.
- -You once worked at the Knights of Columbus.
- -You helped lead the transition team at H.H.S. in the late fall of 2016.
- -You were close to Tom Price.
- -According to flight manifests, you were also some of the private chartered planes that Price took while head of HHS.
- -During the presidential transition, appointees from the previous administration—which included all of the heads of H.H.S. offices—weren't invited to meetings.
- -Only the career bureaucrats were invited, which many former members of the office described as unusual.
- -Former colleagues described you as strongly pro-life.
- -As the director of the trafficking program at O.R.R., you oversaw a team of social workers who assessed the eligibility of victims to get temporary health benefits while their legal cases were being adjudicated.
- -According to former colleagues, you often did not trust the stories of these individuals when they were represented by lawyers because you thought lawyers were coaching them on how to get the benefits.
- -According to former colleagues, any time an individual's story changed, you assumed she was lying.
- -According to former colleagues, you frequently looked for contradictions in the accounts of victims requesting benefits.
- -When your office rejected a victim's request, an appeal generally followed, which caused a large backlog of cases that O.R.R. leadership had to clear.

- -In 2011, the Obama Administration created new criteria for O.R.R. grants: if an aid organization refused to offer complete medical care to the minors in its custody at a shelter, it would receive a lower score on its grant application to obtain funds from O.R.R.
- -A confidential government document outlining the new grant criteria was shared with Republican Congressman Darrel Issa.
- -Several H.H.S. staffers claim that you were responsible for sharing that memo with Issa.
- -You left H.H.S. in 2016 when you were passed over for a promotion.
- -You rejoined the agency in January, 2017.
- -In the early months of the new year, staffers at O.R.R. reported to you.
- -In March, a memo circulated at O.R.R. with the subject line "custodial decisions to preserve the health of a pregnant UAC."
- -Subsequent emails circulating at ORR indicated that shelters "should not conduct procedures, or take any steps that facilitate future procedures such as scheduling appointments, transportation, or other arrangements."
- -One former HHS official with knowledge of the office maintains that you were responsible for these policies before Scott Lloyd took over.

Undocumented pregnant girl in Texas tests Trump policy to stop abortions

By Renuka Rayasam

AUSTIN, Texas — The Trump administration is preventing an undocumented, pregnant teenager detained in a Brownsville refugee shelter from getting an abortion in a policy shift with big implications for hundreds of other pregnant, unaccompanied minors held in such shelters.

She is not the first to be stopped, according to advocates who work with undocumented teenagers.

For the last seven months, the Health and Human Services Department has intervened to prevent abortions sought by girls at federally funded shelters, even in cases of rape and incest and when the teen had a way to pay for the procedure. The agency has instead forced minors to visit crisis pregnancy centers, religiously affiliated groups that counsel women against having abortions, according to documents obtained by POLITICO, interviews with sources involved in the Brownsville case and those familiar with the agency's policy.

In some cases, a senior HHS official has personally visited or called pregnant teens to try to talk them out of ending their pregnancies.

"There is a pattern of unconstitutional overreach of power in a minor's abortion decision," said the teen's lawyer, Brigitte Amiri of the ACLU.

The ACLU brought suit on Friday on behalf of the 17-year-old in the Brownsville shelter, contending HHS has barred the girl, now about 14 weeks pregnant, from getting the abortion even though she got a judge's permission to have it without parental consent and has obtained the money to pay for it. Abortions after 20 weeks are illegal under Texas law.

The girl, identified in court papers only as Jane Doe, obtained a judge's permission on Sept. 25 and had an initial abortion appointment scheduled for Sept. 28, at the end of her first trimester, Amiri said.

But officials at the Office of Refugee Resettlement, which is part of HHS, refused to transport her to her abortion appointment, instead taking her to a crisis pregnancy center, and calling her mother in her home country to tell her about the pregnancy, according to the ACLU suit and Amiri.

"What's especially disturbing for us about this case, is that the child is in the custody of ORR [the Office of Refugee Resettlement], so she has no other choice, and she is stuck in a form of custody or detention," said Michelle Brane of the Women's Refugee Commission.

The Trump policy represents a sharp departure from the Obama administration, when the government reviewed an undocumented teen's request for an abortion when she sought federal funding to pay for it, said Robert Carey, director from April 2015 until January of this year.

The funds were approved in cases of rape or incest or when a mother's life was in danger, according to the agency's guidelines. HHS didn't get involved if the teen got funding for the procedure from another source, he said.

"I wasn't approving their right to have the procedure," Carey said.

The ACLU estimates that several hundred pregnant minors are currently in federal shelters throughout the country. Most are from Guatemala, Honduras and El Salvador and immigration experts believe many are victims of rape and sexual violence, either in their home countries or during the perilous journey here. If they are apprehended after crossing the U.S.-Mexico border, they are housed in HHS shelters separate from adults until they are reunited with relatives or other sponsors, or else deported.

The Trump administration policy shift appears to have begun in early March, in the weeks leading up to Scott Lloyd, a lawyer with Knights of Columbus, a Catholic charitable organization, taking the helm of the refugee resettlement agency. On March 6, he and two HHS employees sent an internal memo detailing three cases of minors held in federal custody asking for abortions, according to documents shared with POLITICO.

They say that federally funded shelters must "provide immediate and continuing information" to the agency regarding abortion requests, that neither the agency, nor the facilities, may authorize the procedure and that punitive action would be taken against facilities that violate the protocol. The email also said the girls in those cases had changed their stories about whether the pregnancies resulted from rape or consensual sex with a boyfriend. The document also had "talking points" but they were blacked out in the copy shared with POLITICO.

Later, as director, Lloyd wrote in a March 30 email to another staffer: "Grantees should not be supporting abortion services pre or post-release; only pregnancy services and life-affirming options counseling."

Lawyers who work with the teens say the policy appears to have been disseminated informally through email, rather than being formally codified in the agency's policy guide.

They also note that Lloyd has personally visited and called pregnant girls in shelters, directed them to a list of approved crisis pregnancy centers, instructed staff to block minors from meeting with attorneys and told shelter operators to call a minor's parents even if she receives permission to go to a judge to obtain authorization for an abortion without their consent. In many cases, parents are hundreds of miles away in their home countries, or minors worry that parents won't approve of the procedure.

Susan Hays, an Austin attorney who helped the girl in the Brownsville shelter get a judge's permission to have the procedure, said that the girl was worried about telling her parents because they had beaten her sister when she became pregnant out of wedlock.

Lloyd has also threatened to pull funding from shelters, which are under federal contract, for failure to comply, Hays said. "Shelters are scared," she added.

Access to abortion has long been an issue for girls detained in refugee shelters, because many are religiously affiliated institutions that oppose the practice. But Amiri, Hays and others who work with refugees tell POLITICO that it's unprecedented for an ORR director to personally attempt to dissuade minors from ending a pregnancy.

"Imagine you are an unaccompanied minor and this bureaucrat from Washington, D.C., in a suit comes to visit you," Amiri said. She called it an "abuse of power to coerce and use immigration status as a bargaining chip."

HHS did not to respond to questions about the agency's policy regarding abortions among undocumented pregnant minors. Lloyd referred repeated calls and emails to the HHS communications team.

Calls and emails to several ORR staffers were unanswered. In response to questions about the Brownsville case, a spokesperson for HHS' Administration for Children and Families said in an emailed statement "our paramount concern is the child's safety and well-being."

"While the child is in our custody, our goal is to provide food, shelter and care to her under federal statute," the spokesperson said. "We are providing excellent care to the adolescent girl and her unborn child, who remain under our care until the mother's release."

The policy regarding what to do with undocumented minors in shelters that request abortions was first laid out in a 2008 Bush administration memo. That came at the end of the administration, so the Obama administration interpreted the policy.

"A considerable amount of time and energy was put into the development of that policy," Carey said.

Carey estimated that he signed off about three or four times a month on the use of federal funds to help girls terminate their pregnancies in case of rape or incest or when her life was threatened.

"They were entitled to family planning services and left [on their own] to make those decisions to terminate those pregnancies," he said about the decision of a pregnant minor in a federally funded shelter to have an abortion.

The new policy could have far-reaching consequences on all aspects of rules around pregnant unaccompanied minors, from how long they are held in federal shelters to how they are counted, say lawyers and advocates who work with them.

For example, HHS may keep girls until they can no longer legally get an abortion or release them to families that would also discourage abortions, rather than to family members or sponsors. In addition, HHS is considering counting fetuses as unborn children, which could change federal funding at shelters that house pregnant teens, according to sources.

The emergence of the policy is documented in a series of emails between Lloyd and other officials and shelters since March.

In one case, acting ORR director Kenneth Tota tried to stop a medication abortion, which involves taking two prescriptions in sequence. He asked that the girl be sent to the emergency room for an exam to determine if the fetus was still viable after she had taken the first pill, but before she took the second drug to complete the procedure. In the end, the agency let the procedure continue.

In another case, about 10 days before his official appointment, Lloyd visited a Honduran girl in a San Antonio shelter and sent an email to the shelter operator asking to accommodate her request for bananas and soup and a more comfortable mattress, according to the emails. He added that if things get "dicey" with her sponsor, a relative in the U.S., he knew families that would take her in and see her through her pregnancy and beyond. That potentially violates an agreement in which the government must quickly reunite the minor with family or other sponsor.

In another case this spring, described in the emails, Lloyd said he spoke with a girl requesting an abortion at a Southwest Key shelter in Phoenix. He directed ORR staff to send the girl to a specific crisis pregnancy center for an ultrasound and to keep her from meeting with an attorney regarding her desire to get a judge to give her permission for an abortion. Neither the shelter nor the crisis pregnancy center responded to requests to comment over the weekend.

Although the ACLU's lawsuit applies only to one teenager, Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton said in a news release that he worries a decision in the case could have broad-ranging implications.

"No federal court has ever declared that unlawfully-present aliens with no substantial ties to this country have a constitutional right to abortion on demand," he said. "If 'Doe' prevails in this case, the ruling will create a right to abortion for anyone on earth who enters the U.S. illegally. And with that right, countless others undoubtedly would follow. Texas must not become a sanctuary state for abortions."

Undocumented pregnant girl in Texas tests Trump policy to stop abortions

AUSTIN, Texas — The Trump administration is preventing an undocumented, pregnant teenager detained in a Brownsville refugee shelter from getting an abortion in a policy shift with big implications for hundreds of other pregnant, unaccompanied minors held in such shelters.

She is not the first to be stopped, according to advocates who work with undocumented teenagers.

The new policy could have far-reaching consequences on all aspects of rules around pregnant unaccompanied minors, from how long they are held in federal shelters to how they are counted, say lawyers and advocates who work with them.

For example, HHS may keep girls until they can no longer legally get an abortion or release them to families that would also discourage abortions, rather than to family members or sponsors. In addition, HHS is considering counting fetuses as unborn children, which could change federal funding at shelters that house pregnant teens, according to sources.

The emergence of the policy is documented in a series of emails between Lloyd and other officials and shelters since March.

In one case, acting ORR director Kenneth Tota tried to stop a medication abortion, which involves taking two prescriptions in sequence. He asked that the girl be sent to the emergency room for an exam to determine if the fetus was still viable after she had taken the first pill, but before she took the second drug to complete the procedure. In the end, the agency let the procedure continue.

In another case, about 10 days before his official appointment, Lloyd visited a Honduran girl in a San Antonio shelter and sent an email to the shelter operator asking to accommodate her request for bananas and soup and a more comfortable mattress, according to the emails. He added that if things get "dicey" with her sponsor, a relative in the U.S., he knew families that would take her in and see her through her pregnancy and beyond. That potentially violates an agreement in which the government must quickly reunite the minor with family or other sponsor.

In another case this spring, described in the emails, Lloyd said he spoke with a girl requesting an abortion at a Southwest Key shelter in Phoenix. He directed ORR staff to send the girl to a specific crisis pregnancy center for an ultrasound and to keep her from meeting with an attorney regarding her desire to get a judge to give her permission for an abortion. Neither the shelter nor the crisis pregnancy center responded to requests to comment over the weekend.

Although the ACLU's lawsuit applies only to one teenager, Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton said in a news release that he worries a decision in the case could have broad-ranging implications.

"No federal court has ever declared that unlawfully-present aliens with no substantial ties to this country have a constitutional right to abortion on demand," he said. "If 'Doe' prevails in this case, the ruling will create a right to abortion for anyone on earth who enters the U.S. illegally. And with that right, countless others undoubtedly would follow. Texas must not become a sanctuary state for abortions."

Subject: Sen. Hirono: Meeting Request

Hi Scott,

I received a request from Sen. Hirono's office for an "update on any data about the implementation of the interim final regulation for contractors with religious objections to emergency contraception and abortion care." She is asking for a call later this week to see if there is any data or updates on the implementation of the religious accommodation.

Please let me know who should be included and look at availability.

Maggie, I would assume you would want to be on the call unless you tell me otherwise.

As background, we have had several conference calls with her on this subject and the last update we sent was last August, we send the following:

The Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) has implemented the Interim Final Rule on Standards to Prevent, Detect, and Respond to Sexual Abuse and Sexual Harassment Involving Unaccompanied Children. Since the rule's publication, ORR has issued policies in its online Policy Guide, provided multiple trainings for care providers, updated reporting forms and requirements, and provided resources for care providers. For your reference, you may find the online Policy Guide here: http://www.acf.hhs.gov/orr/resource/children-entering-the-united-states-unaccompanied. ORR also created the UC Sexual Abuse Hotline, which provides a way for any child or third party, including family members, sponsors, legal service providers, child advocates, and any other individual with knowledge or suspicion of sexual abuse or harassment occurring at an ORR care provider to report such allegations directly to ORR.

ORR is mindful that some potential and exiting grantees may have religious objections to providing abortion and emergency contraception services. ORR is committed to working with care providers to ensure every child is provided all required information and services in an equal, fair, and timely manner that is respectful to the principles and beliefs of the care provider.

Thanks.

she may get statement

Good morning. Washington Post reporter Maria Sachetti has asked when she may get a statement; she is on deadline today.

Also has some additional questions (which are with ORR): Description of UC shelters? What happens with UC immigration status while in UC care; does HHS take them to immigration court, etc.?

Subject: two high school students accused in Rockville HS rape case

Deadline: March 21, 2017

Spokesperson: ACF

Query: I'm trying to find out what happened in the cases of Jose o. Montano 11/18/1999 of El Salvador and Henry E. Sanchez Milian, 18, of Guatemala, who have been accused in this case; (Suspect in rape at Maryland school was stopped 7 months ago by Border Patrol). ICE says they didn't release them. They're both charged as adults, and Henry, of course, is an adult.

- I'm trying to find out why HHS released them, how they got into your custody, (if they did) and what checks are in place to background them and their sponsors.
- Does HHS require the sponsor to take out a formal guardianship in court before handing them over?
 And does anyone monitor them?
- What is the statute (will look on web site)
- Why did HHS release them? (if they did)
- If HHS never took custody, is HHS trying to find out why?

On March 1, 2003, the Homeland Security Act of 2002, Section 462, transferred responsibilities for the care and placement of unaccompanied children from the Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to the Director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR).

Since then, ORR has cared for more than 175,000 children, incorporating child welfare values as well as the principles and provisions established by the Flores Agreement in 1997, the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 and its reauthorization acts, the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act (TVPRA) of 2005 and 2008.

Because it was an FRN about an action that had already occurred and that must be publicized in the FR, I told them it didn't need to be cleared.

AUSTIN, Texas — A federal judge on Wednesday is set to hear a suit filed on behalf of an undocumented, pregnant teenager detained in a federally funded shelter that the Trump administration is preventing from getting an abortion.

Lawyers for the 17-year old girl from Central America, who is being detained in Brownsville, Texas, believe she is about 14 weeks pregnant and requested expedited action to accommodate an appointment for an abortion scheduled later this week. Abortions after 20 weeks are illegal in Texas.

The girl, known only as Jane Doe in court filings, followed state law and obtained a judge's permission to have the procedure without parental consent and has the money to pay for it. But her lawyers say that the administration is preventing her from leaving the shelter.

Instead of taking her to an earlier appointment, the lawyers say federal officials took her to a crisis pregnancy center that counsels women against having abortions.

The American Civil Liberties Union tried to add the case to a suit in California against HHS that alleged that the government was denying undocumented pregnant minors the right to abortions by contracting with religious shelters that oppose the practice. But a California judge threw out that suit last week, saying the court didn't have jurisdiction.

The ACLU refiled the case in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., last week.

The ACLU has summoned acting HHS Secretary Eric Hargan and Scott Lloyd, who heads the Office of Refugee Resettlement, a division of the HHS that sets policy on undocumented minors in its care.

But a California judge threw out that suit last week, saying the court didn't have jurisdiction.

The ACLU refiled the case in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., last week.

The ACLU has summoned acting HHS Secretary Eric Hargan and Scott Lloyd, who heads the Office of Refugee Resettlement, a division of the HHS that sets policy on undocumented minors in its care.

Trying to pull the story this weekend. Sorry for the tight timeline. Just got the documents from the ACLU lawsuit from PACER last night and my eds want the story as soon as I can pull it together.

Thanks for all of your help!

Dear Caitlin,

Apologies for disturbing you on a Saturday, but I wanted to reach out for a story I am working on. The story is about the Jane Doe case here in Texas – the ACLU is filing suit against the federal government for blocking the abortion of an unaccompanied minor in a federal shelter. I've also reached out to the administration for Children and Families, which is part of HHS, but wanted to check with you as well. Here are a list of questions that I have:

- 1. I wanted to better understand whether the policy to prevent abortions for unaccompanied minor girls who are pregnant is a new federal policy for the office of refugee resettlement.
- 2. Where is the policy coming from is coming from the President? Top HHS officials?
- 3. How long has it been in place and how many girls have been affected?
- 4. Has the policy been vetted within HHS?
- 5. Has director Scott Lloyd personally visited shelters and girls who are in this situation? I have heard he has made numerous calls to them and court documents show he has visited at least one minor in San Antonio.
- 6. Is ORR referring girls to crisis pregnancy centers and if so, which ones?
- 7. How is ORR pulling together that list?

- 8. Is ORR concerned about legal challenges?
- 9. How many pregnant girls are in shelters in the U.S? How many have requested abortions and of those how many have been sent to a crisis pregnancy center?

Thanks, Renu

Paula,

Per yesterday's Beachhead meeting:

Attached is the Report to Congress on HHS Activities to Improve Women's Health as required by the ACA.

OASH is tasked with drafting the final report by incorporating contributions by various Operating and Staff Divisions in HHS. As you will see, the report highlights the valuable and diverse work across HHS that improves women's health.

This document will need to be placed in Departmental clearance.

Let me know if you have questions. We are eager to place this document in clearance. Naturally, we will await a green light from you.
